SUNDAY SCHOOL JOURNAL AND BIBLE STUDENTS' MAGA-

NEW YORK CITY—Manhattan.

A FEW FACTS.

VALKYRIAN is an up-to-date monthly magazine printed in the Swedish language; it is of popular size, contains 64 pages and is national in its scope and character. VALKYRIAN has the best efforts of Swedish-American authors and every Swedish paper in America has warmly commended VALKYRIAN'S original articles, splendid illustrations and neat typographical appearance. VALKYRIAN has a rich field—there are over one million Swedes in the United States—and this monthly is the only publication of its kind printed in Swedish in America.

VALKYRIAN'S first number, issued in January, 1897, met with immediate favor and VALKYRIAN has ever since increased in circulation and influence. It is a home publication, read by thousands of educated, thrifty, progressive citizens of Swedish birth or extraction and by every member of the family.

We would ask of advertisers to give VALKYRIAN a fair trial; those who have done so are satisfied with the results. Only high-class advertisements accepted. For advertising rates address the publisher.

Publisher's announcement.—The UNIQUE MONTHLY is the standard half-dime magazine of the world. It has all the features of other magazines—stories, special articles, humorous dialogue, illustrations—in addition to features which cannot be enjoyed elsewhere—its "What Next?" its "Crucible," its "Brain Contests," its original way of giving its best to readers in the appeal to what is best in them. Herein is its unique distinction. It is constantly interesting its readers in its advertisers, developing thinkers among the former and purchasers for the latter. Its Information and Purchasing Bureau alone would give it an eminent place among helpful publications.

☞The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the American Newspaper Directory is guaranteed by its publishers, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

Publisher's announcement.—After thirty two years of honest labor and persistent application the American Newspaper Directory has been brought to a high standard of perfection and beauty. By honesty of purpose, attention to detail and a constant disposition to expose fraudulent practice, the publishers have collected the most reliable statistics pertaining to all newspapers published in the United States and Canada. While its primary object is to furnish information about newspapers, which is necessary to every advertiser, its gazetteer features are found of great value to those who need business facts concerning any part of the country. Those who give it a test find that benefit follows its close acquaintance. Frequent use makes it indispensable. Taking into consideration the enormous amount of work involved in compilation, cost of printing, publishing, etc., and the incalculable value to advertisers and business men generally, the price at which the Directory is sold, $5, should secure it a place in every office.

The School Bulletin

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

To Advertisers

There are more than a hundred regular educational journals published in America, besides several times as many periodicals published in the interests of certain particular schools and colleges. To choose among all of them those which will prove of most service to you as advertising mediums is not an easy task. Here are some reasons why your first choice should be the School Bulletin :

1. It is one of the five oldest educational journals in America, and the only one of them that has been under the same ownership and management from the beginning. It was the only American school journal which received the gold medal at the Paris Exposition of 1889 ; it received the highest award offered at the Chicago Exposition of 1893, the diploma pronouncing it " of the greatest interest and historical value to educators of all grades ;" and it received two gold medals at the Paris Exposition of 1900.

2. It is the New York State Educational Journal. There are in New York more than 30,000 public school teachers, 7,000 more than in all New England, and one-half more than in Pennsylvania or Ohio. The salaries of these teachers amount to Fifteen Millions of Dollars a year, and as much more is spent for books, apparatus, buildings, and other expenses. These teachers and these schools can be reached effectively only through the School Bulletin.

3. It has a circulation exceeding 15,000 copies. There is a good deal of lying about newspaper circulation, and we prefer to publish exact statements. For the last volume (26th) the total number of copies printed was 197,000, an average for each of the 12 numbers of 16,425. The amount of postage paid the Syracuse postoffice for second-class matter during the year was $374.72. These are not approximations ; they are exact figures. They mean the more because it is our practice to stop the paper when subscription expires.

4. It is a well-established journal, of recognized influence. Since its first issue in 1874 the Bulletin has not changed its form, its price, its principles, or its editor. A glance over some of the pages of recommendations, sent on application, will show that the Bulletin is subscribed for and paid for and read by the superintendents and teachers and boards of education who have control of adoption and purchases. An advertisement in such a journal carries weight. President Andrew S. Draper, of the University of Illinois, said of the Bulletin while he was State Superintendent : " Ever since I became Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State of New York I have been a careful reader of the School Bulletin. I consider it for the ordinary teacher the best school journal published. It expresses its views positively, but after reading it for seven years I am prepared to say that while I have sometimes doubted the expediency of some of its utterances, I have never questioned the justice of any editorial it has published."

5. Its advertising columns are distinct. No " reading notices " are inserted at any price. It is believed to be better for both reader and advertiser that advertisements should appear as such.

6. Its advertisements are clean and trustworthy. The right is reserved and exercised to reject any advertisement not believed to be honest and helpful to subscribers.

7. Its rates are invariable. This may not seem an advantage to bargain hunters, but most business men prefer to deal where only fair rates are published, and those rates are adhered to. The Bulletin advertising column is 12 inches long and 2 inches wide, 4 columns to a page. We allow 15 lines nonpareil to the inch.

Sometimes you must trust somebody.

N advertiser who says to the agent in whom he has confidence, "I have so much money to spend, please invest it where it will get the best results," is likely to secure a better service for his outlay than another who insists upon knowing in advance exactly what the agent will promise to do, although not personally competent to pass upon the excellence of the plan or list of papers when it is spread before him. An estimate covering a specific list of papers, at a certain price, sometimes ties the agent's hands and precludes him from availing himself of a good opportunity that may present itself, but which he might not have been able to promise in advance. Our experience and knowledge as advertising agents are at the service of our customers.

PRINTERS' INK.

A JOURNAL FOR ADVERTISERS.

☞ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY. TEN CENTS A COPY. SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, FIVE DOLLARS A YEAR, IN ADVANCE.

A CONSUL in the West Indies, who desires his name withheld, on account of certain government regulations, writes under date of November 26:

PRINTERS' INK comes regularly to the Consulate and is read not only by me but by all of my family and many visitors. It is bright, interesting and valuable. I keep it regularly on file and often refer to it. It is really a magazine and treats of advertising in a literary, as well as in a trade or technical manner. It is full of information that is of the utmost importance, and, what is still more valuable, of absolute reliability. I have found it of very great assistance more than once in replying to merchants and others desirous of doing new business with the United States. I myself have purchased more than one article simply because I have read a write-up of it in PRINTERS' INK, and have yet to regret having made any of these purchases.

In replying to inquiries from business men in the United States; in advising business men here; in furnishing special reports, on possible new business to be done, to the Department of State; in all of these I have found the advertising lessons of PRINTERS' INK of the greatest assistance. Whatever PRINTERS' INK has to say it says clearly, lucidly, interestingly. It comes right to the point and wastes no verbiage. There is no "padding" to be found in the pages of PRINTERS' INK. It is, therefore, an excellent model of style in writing. Even its mere advertisements are interesting reading.

Send ten cents for sample copy of PRINTERS' INK to Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Publishers, No. 10 Spruce St., New York.

To Place Advertising.

PRINTERS' INK and the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY are recognized authorities on the art of advertising and the standing of newspapers.

Some people assert that more advertising knowledge is stored in and propagated from 10 Spruce Street, New York, than any other one source.

We are glad to be favored with the placing of anybody's advertising that is respectable, honest and clean cut.

Intelligent and persistent advertising of a good article will bring success, provided the article affords a fair profit and the advertising is done in a way that is not wasteful.

It is less expensive to do advertising right than it is to trust to luck.

If in need of our services write to or visit

We Make This Suggestion:

If you are going to do a little advertising pretty soon, divide your appropriation into three parts; say of $500 each. Spend $1,000 of it in the way you think best in weeklies or monthlies. Send $500 to us to be invested in dailies only. Then keep watch and see if you don't get more valuable returns from the $500 invested in the dailies than you do from the $1,000 invested in other papers.

Live advertisers to-day use daily papers. They don't need to use anything else.

The daily paper cuts quick and cuts deep. Address

All Buyers Look Alike To The Advertiser.

The question with the advertiser is how can the buyers be reached most effectively and economically. Space at ONE-NINTH of a cent per line per thousand circulation in the papers of the is the best proposition for advertisers in the United States. There is nothing better from ocean to ocean or from lake to gulf. Evening papers that reach the middle classes; the class that purchases steadily. There are no better values.

IN dealing with newspapers and periodicals and paying them large sums for advertising it often appears essential to the advertiser to know about the stability, character, standing and present circulation of a particular publication under consideration. The information conveyed by a newspaper directory is necessarily brief and touches only upon well-defined lines. A timely knowledge of some important detail of the past, present and the probable future of a paper may occasionally prevent an unwarranted expenditure. What seems gold on the surface is sometimes only gilding.

The American Newspaper Directory

Confidential Information Bureau . . .

with the more than thirty years' experience of its founders, and with the facilities at their command, is willing to convey to its subscribers such confidential information as it may possess. It is often in a position to tell about a specified publication just what an advertiser would very much like to know. It will deal only with papers credited with a circulation of a thousand copies or more. With smaller circulations the general advertiser can not profitably concern himself.

THE DAYTON DAILY NEWS

OF DAYTON, OHIO,

Is admitted to be one of the best propositions in the Middle West.

Dayton is the third city in manufacturing in Ohio, outclassing both Columbus and Toledo in point of capital and people employed in manufacturing.

To Dayton has been linked by twelve traction lines outlying territory with a population which added to Dayton makes 250,000 people.

THE DAILY NEWS is the only paper in this field which has made an aggressive, enterprising effort to keep in close touch with the people through a large representative circulation. Advertising contracts are pledged on the proposition that the Daily News has more circulation than all the other Dayton dailies combined.

THE MISSION OF THE

Rosary Magazine

which is issued under the auspices of the Dominican Order, is to spread the literature of the Rosary in History, Dogma, Poetry, Art and Song. It is also an energetic worker in the cause of general good reading. Enlisted in the Apostolate of the Catholic press, the Rosary Magazine is devoted to the interests of the Catholic home, as this is an essential element in training a Catholic generation.

We are assured that devotion to our Blessed Lady, Queen of the Rosary, and the propagation of good literature, are dear to intelligent Catholic hearts.

The subscription price is $2 00 a year; single copies 20 cents.

Published at Somerset, Ohio.

New York Office, 871 Lexington Ave., New York City.

The best medium for advertising is that which reaches the right class of people.

The Rosary Magazine is introduced, through the pulpit, into all cities and towns by members of the order who devote their whole time to the work; this guarantees a steady and regular increase in circulation from 500 to 1,000 copies a month.

The Rosary is a family magazine which is carefully read by every member of the house, hence all its advertisements are sure to be noted.

The Rosary is kept, not thrown away like most publications, therefore an advertisement in the magazine is never lost.

WARREN (O.) CHRONICLE

brings increased trade. This is all the business man wants to know. That's why the Chronicle carries more clean, high-class advertising than other papers in its territory. The Secret: The Chronicle has a larger paid up list of subscribers than any other newspaper published in Trumbull County, and we challenge a successful contradiction of this statement. That means the patronage of the substantial, purchasing classes. The Chronicle is the Oldest Newspaper in Northern Ohio, has an established reputation, and enjoys the confidence and esteem of the public. Certified proof of circulation, as stated below, cheerfully given.

XENIA, c. h., Greene Co. -□ 8,696† pop., on Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago, & St. Louis and Cincinnati, Dayton & Indianapo-

On one occasion the publisher of PRINTERS' INK said to the business manager of a Western daily: "Yes; your paper is good enough to be advertised in PRINTERS' INK." Whereupon the publisher of the daily expressed surprise that any question on that point should have a place in anybody's mind. When asked if he could name a poorer paper that he had ever seen advertised in the Little Schoolmaster's select columns, he said: "Why, of course—dozens of them!" When urged to mention one off-hand, he admitted his inability to do so, but promised to make and send in a list. This promise, however, he never redeemed. And his paper was a very good one. Possibly PRINTERS' INK is over particular about the character and quality of its advertisers.

NEWSPAPER advertising is the best sort of advertising for the man who has an article that can be used by everybody. It is not, however, always just the kind of advertising that should be used on all occasions for every business. Advertising, like medicine, has to be adapted to the business expected to be benefited. Having made a study of advertising we are specialists in that branch of industry, and competent to prepare and place advertising in such a way as is calculated to most quickly and economically meet the business requirement.

CONCERNING THE CHARACTER AND CIRCULATION OF NEWSPAPERS.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is issued four times a year. Orders are solicited for an annual subscription covering the issues which appear on the first day of March, June, September and December, and a yearly subscription for PRINTERS' INK, a journal for advertisers, issued weekly.

The price of an annual subscription, as specified above, is twenty-five dollars; and the subscriber becomes a member of THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY Confidential Information Bureau, and as such member, and in consideration of the payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, strictly in advance, is entitled to the privilege of applying to the publishers of the Directory, at pleasure, for a confidential report concerning the circulation or character of any newspaper credited by the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY with a circulation rating greater than 1,000 copies per issue. Such confidential reports will be supplied to subscribers whenever called for. Address

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Publishers of
AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY AND PRINTERS' INK,
No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

PRINTERS' INK is the foremost publication issued in the interest of advertisers and publishers in this country. It has been published about fifteen years by George P. Rowell & Company, New York. It is the pioneer paper of its class and delights in being called "The Little Schoolmaster in the Art of Advertising." Its pronounced success has caused a cloud of papers to be established with a like purpose in view all over the country and in foreign lands. None of these has succeeded in dimming the lustre or lessening the patronage of PRINTERS' INK, which treats them all in a fatherly way and calls them PRINTERS' INK Babies. Some of the children at times turn upon the parent and say saucy and impertinent words. PRINTERS' INK never loses its equanimity, but proceeds in the even tenor of its way, promoting the art of advertising.—Scranton (Pa.) "Times" of January 15th.

Every booklet or other kind of printing a firm sends out is mentally commented upon by the receiver. It makes a good, or a bad, or no impression at all. The latter is practically a bad impression. It's an advertising opportunity needlessly wasted. The same 2-cent stamp that carried out the bad impression would have paid for a good one. Indifferent printing costs as much, or more, as good, impressive, representative printing costs.

We fill orders for commercial printing, big or small. We do a neat, tasty, impressive job. Write or call on Naturalization of all British Born Residents of this Country, the Support and Maintenance of the Constitution and Institutions of the United States. PRINTERS' INK is the foremost publication issued in the interest of advertisers and publishers in this country. It has been published about fifteen years by George P. Rowell & Company, New York. It is the pioneer paper of its class and delights in being called "The Little Schoolmaster in the Art of Advertising." Its pronounced success has caused a cloud of papers to be established with a like purpose in view all over the country and in foreign lands. None of these has succeeded in dimming the lustre or lessening the patronage of PRINTERS' INK, which treats them all in a fatherly way and calls them PRINTERS' INK Babies. Some of the children at times turn upon the parent and say saucy and impertinent words. PRINTERS' INK never loses its equanimity, but proceeds in the even tenor of its way, promoting the art of advertising.—Scranton (Pa.) "Times" of January 15th.

The contest for commercial supremacy is on. The United States are destined to be the biggest factor in the commerce of the future by reason of natural advantages, resources and superior ability.

It means greater markets, sharper competition at home and abroad.

It requires more and skillfully directed advertising.

Under equally favorable conditions, the manufacturer with the best taken care of advertising will have and maintain a decided advantage over his less alert competitors.

We aim to be of valuable aid to manufacturers of the first-class type.

We plan, write, illustrate, print and place advertising; we do all or any desired part of these. Call on or write to Washington, D. C., September 13, 1900.

Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Publishers of American Newspaper Directory,
10 Spruce St., New York City.

Gentlemen:-

We subscribe to and pay cash for your American Newspaper Directory, and find it of great value in our Advertising Department. We have 6,892 miles of railway, extending from Washington, D. C., all over the South, and in advertising this System we use more than 1,000 publications, and in selecting this list we find that we get a correct idea of circulations from your Directory that cannot be obtained from any other similar publication. We receive other Newspaper Directories gratis; but the fact that we pay cash for yours in addition shows that we cannot place the same dependence upon the "free list."

We thoroughly appreciate the careful manner in which your Directory is compiled.

Wishing you continued success, I am,

Yours very truly,

Jos. H. Hamm

The Advertiser's Salvation

must be worked out in just one way and that's the successful way. Many paths are likely to be trodden before the right road is struck.

The 20th century advertising problems are as many and perplexing ones as ever.

The wise advertiser keeps posted what others are doing—he watches his competitor as an incentive rather than for imitation. Good information on any given subject often means success—it has won great battles and defeated commercial and political opponents.

Printers' Ink

the weekly journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the foremost advertising magazine of good information on every detail of publicity—writing, illustrating, printing. It's for the novice in advertising as well as for the veteran, and it suggests something profitable for both in every single issue.

To do without PRINTERS' INK does hardly imply a thorough, up-to-date advertiser. Subscription price only $5 a year in advance.

Send ten cents for sample copy.

American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau.

CONCERNING THE CHARACTER AND CIRCULATION OF NEWSPAPERS.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is issued four times a year. Orders are solicited for an annual subscription covering the issues which appear on the first day of March, June, September and December, and a yearly subscription for PRINTERS' INK, a journal for advertisers, issued weekly.

The price of an annual subscription, as specified above, is twenty-five dollars; and the subscriber becomes a member of THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY Confidential Information Bureau, and as such member, and in consideration of the payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, strictly in advance, is entitled to the privilege of applying to the publishers of the Directory, at pleasure, for a confidential report concerning the circulation or character of any newspaper credited by the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY with a circulation rating greater than 1,000 copies per issue. Such confidential reports will be supplied to subscribers whenever called for. Address

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Publishers of
AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY AND PRINTERS' INK,
No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

The man who reads PRINTERS' INK will be taught how to buy advertising space, and that is one of the greatest problems which confronts the successful advertiser. Some advertisers have told me they did not understand adwriting. Few people do. I tell them to read PRINTERS' INK. They get the benefit of brains and experience in PRINTERS' INK that they could not get elsewhere for "love or money." There are two things I greatly admire in PRINTERS' INK: First, it tells the truth; second, it gives all the facts about advertising and is full of good business suggestions.

Sometimes you must trust somebody.

N advertiser who says to the agent in whom he has confidence, "I have so much money to spend, please invest it where it will get the best results," is likely to secure a better service for his outlay than another who insists upon knowing in advance exactly what the agent will promise to do, although not personally competent to pass upon the excellence of the plan or list of papers when it is spread before him. An estimate covering a specific list of papers, at a certain price, sometimes ties the agent's hands and precludes him from availing himself of a good opportunity that may present itself, but which he might not have been able to promise in advance. Our experience and knowledge as advertising agents are at the service of our customers.

The Success and Failure of Others are always of keenest concern to the up-to-date advertiser—the one to obtain, the other to avoid. Obviously, it wouldn't be true to say that success were as easy as failure, though it's true in many cases. It's easier to make money than to save money, yet—

Printers' Ink

the journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the one paper in the world that comes nearest to solving the problem how to make and to save money for advertisers. PRINTERS' INK is pre-eminently educational on the subject—from the advertiser's standpoint. It teaches, it advises, it stimulates, it suggests. It's a recognized authority on the subjects of publicity, and not to have it on your desk every week would be wronging nobody but yourself. Subscription price $5 per year—payable in advance. Send ten cents for sample copy of PRINTERS' INK. Address

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Publishers,
No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

No Effort Necessary

The man who wishes to get out a booklet to advertise his business need not expend much effort. All that is necessary is to give us an indication of what he desires. We will have the matter written, set it up, select the paper, ink, etc. He will then O. K. what we have suggested, tell us how many copies he wishes, and the thing is done! Write us if you are interested.

Like Warfare

Modern business is like warfare, and although the sinews are of a peaceful character, the contest depends on good generalship, modern weapons and a strategy that goes hand in hand with constant vigilance.

Advertising, skillfully and rightly directed, always taking advantage of changed conditions, is one of the modern weapons that carry within the element of commercial victory.

Such advertising must be well planned, well written and well placed. We like to hear from business men who want such advertising. We plan, write, illustrate, print and place publicity; we do all of these, or any desired part of them. If interested, call on or write to

IN dealing with newspapers and periodicals and paying them large sums for advertising it often appears essential to the advertiser to know about the stability, character, standing and present circulation of a particular publication under consideration. The information conveyed by a newspaper directory is necessarily brief and touches only upon well-defined lines. A timely knowledge of some important detail of the past, present and the probable future of a paper may occasionally prevent an unwarranted expenditure. What seems gold on the surface is sometimes only gilding.

The American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau . . .

with the more than thirty years' experience of its founders, and with the facilities at their command, is willing to convey to its subscribers such confidential information as it may possess. It is often in a position to tell about a specified publication just what an advertiser would very much like to know. It will deal only with papers credited with a circulation of a thousand copies or more. With smaller circulations the general advertiser can not profitably concern himself.

A True Stimulant For Advertisers

If you are an advertiser, you know of the periods when ideas fail to come and when bright thoughts seem to be as rare as green corn in March.

As a matter of fact no other occupation calls for such constant and close application—hence the mental depression, which calls for a true stimulant.

PRINTERS' INK

a journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the advertiser's true stimulant. It's taken in weekly doses at ten cents each, and warranted to cure mental depression unless the patient is beyond cure. It's the only stimulant that creates a lasting, wholesome habit—a habit that becomes more profitable as you keep on taking the remedy. The subscription price is $5 a year—payable in advance—yet the man who doesn't get five dollars' worth of ideas in one issue must be pretty dull.

Send ten cents for sample copy of PRINTERS' INK to

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Publishers,
No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

No Effort Necessary

The man who wishes to get out a booklet to advertise his business need not expend much effort. All that is necessary is to give us an indication of what he desires. We will have the matter written, set it up, select the paper, ink, etc. He will then O. K. what we have suggested, tell us how many copies he wishes, and the thing is done! Write us if you are interested.

Which Kind Do You Want?

If you are an advertiser, who pays his publisher's bills, you are likely to be interested in newspaper directories. There are different kinds of directories. Some are published to please the newspapers and editors—they are the easy kind and they are a good thing for the publishers only. The other kind—and only one of its kind—is the whose publishers, Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of 10 Spruce St., New York, have for the last 32 years battled for the principle that every advertiser has a right to know all about the circulations of the mediums he intends to use. The American Newspaper Directory is primarily published to aid the advertiser—in doing this, it also helps the publisher, provided he's honest and intelligent.

American Newspaper Directory

No other directory in the world does contain—or pretends to give—such an amount of unbiased, reliable information about the press of the United States and Canada. The American Newspaper Directory may err, but if it does it's always on the safety-side for the advertiser. With a copy of the American Newspaper Directory to guide him the judicious advertiser may decide with accuracy what papers to use to his best advantage, as the Directory also conveys a topographical and commercial survey of the remotest county of the United States where a newspaper is published.

Revised and Issued Quarterly—a Handsomely, Solidly Bound Volume, $5.00 per quarter, or $20 per year, delivered free within the United States.

THE JUDICIOUS PLACING OF ADVERTISEMENTS.

Long experience, acquired skill and the special advantages that accrue from these, coupled with a proper organization, enable us to place advertising where it is most likely to bring largest returns at least cost.

We know the mediums best adapted to the needs of the individual advertiser, because we know what they have accomplished for those of our patrons who have used them in the past, and we place advertising accordingly when the placing is left to us.

If you tell us what you have to sell and what you think of doing, we will give you such assistance as we can.

IN dealing with newspapers and periodicals and paying them large sums for advertising it often appears essential to the advertiser to know about the stability, character, standing and present circulation of a particular publication under consideration. The information conveyed by a newspaper directory is necessarily brief and touches only upon well-defined lines. A timely knowledge of some important detail of the past, present and the probable future of a paper may occasionally prevent an unwarranted expenditure. What seems gold on the surface is sometimes only gilding.

The American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau . . .

with the more than thirty years' experience of its founders, and with the facilities at their command, is willing to convey to its subscribers such confidential information as it may possess. It is often in a position to tell about a specified publication just what an advertiser would very much like to know. It will deal only with papers credited with a circulation of a thousand copies or more. With smaller circulations the general advertiser can not profitably concern himself.

Look at the Map. From Parkersburg to West Union, 55 miles. From Grantsville to Sistersville, 70 miles.

The richest part of the State, where nearly every farm is leased at big money for oil, coal or gas. In all this section there is but one Democratic paper, THE PENNSBORO NEWS, a large 56-column paper, that goes to 1,700 families every week. At some B. & O. stations THE NEWS has more subscribers than eight local Republican papers combined, and always has more than any two of them. This data is submitted as a pointer to those advertisers who wish to reach a rich and responsive country trade.

D. A. FAWCETT, Prop., Pennsboro, W. Va.

THE NEWS carries an average of twenty-two columns of local advertising each week—more than all our county contemporaries combined.

The Evening Wisconsin

BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IN MILWAUKEE.

In a recent case in court affecting the Evening Wisconsin, Mr. Geo. P. Miller, President of the T. A. Chapman Co., the second largest advertiser in Milwaukee, testified as follows:

"Now let me ask you that if at that interview of April 7, 1900, you said to Mr. Aikens that you considered the Evening Wisconsin a better advertising medium than any of the other papers?"

"Yes, sir, I did."

"Did you also say to him that for that reason you had always paid the Evening Wisconsin a higher rate per inch than the other evening papers, or words to that effect?"

"Yes, sir."

"That was true, was it?"

"That was true."

"That is true you said it and true you did it?"

"Yes, sir, and true I meant it."

"That was said in the presence of the three defendants, was it not?"

"Yes."

Advertising that has the earmarks of honest endeavor is never lost.

To carry force and conviction it should tell a plain story, rightly presented.

The printing must be done in a striking manner. It may be plain or sumptuous in appearance, but rightly done it has the chances of success.

We are advertising agents—that's our business. We attempt to put force and conviction (the earmarks of honest endeavor) into the advertising literature we are instructed to prepare. We can be of service to advertisers by planning, writing, illustrating, printing and placing advertisements. All of these, or any part desired.

The LARAMIE BOOMERANG

Only Democratic daily newspaper in the State of Wyoming. : : :

Established in 1881, by BILL NYE.

DAILY AND SEMI-WEEKLY.

Edited by J. ROY WILLIAMS.

A strong up-to-date newspaper that secures business for those who advertise in its columns.

TRUE.

MR. T. B. RUSSELL, Advertising Manager for a great London house, recently made a business trip around the world and this is one of the experiences he ran across:

A friend of mine, who represents a big American concern, goes through the colony of New Zealand once a year or so. Among the people whom my friend used to call on was a druggist, a live man, with ideas beyond his fellows. Among these ideas were newspaper advertising and window tickets. He used to run an ad with a catchline or two in it, and hang out his store window with neatly stenciled cards that reproduced the catchlines. But what used to strike my friend was the excellence and endless variety of them.

One day he asked the druggist about them. "How do you think of all these things?" The man of medicines said: "Well, I don't mind telling you. I get 'em out of here." So saying h unlocked a drawer and exhibited about a year's copies of PRINTERS' INK. "Get one of 'em every week," he explained.

The Little Schoolmaster In the Art Of Advertising

You may not be a Shoe Manufacturer

Whether you are or not this will suffice to illustrate our point.

A shoe manufacturer is familiar with all the kinds and grades of leather, vesting, welts, uppers and all the various findings necessary to the complete shoe. He knows the right price to pay and where to buy to best advantage.

He knows when a shoe has been properly designed, cut, fitted, sewed and soled.

Knowing these facts he is able to discriminate between good and bad.

It is this kind of knowledge, gained in his daily business, buying materials, making and selling shoes, that makes the business possible and profitable.

What is true of shoes is likewise true of every other business.

To sell your goods you must advertise.

You know the details and technical points about your business; we know about ours. Our business is advertising.

The knowledge that qualifies you to judge raw material and the finished product better than we could is similar to the knowledge that enables us to place advertising to better advantage than you can. With us it is a knowledge ripened and proved by long experience.

We have studied advertising, know its various aspects and have gathered much knowledge about it that is valuable and reliable.

We have facilities for illustrating, writing and constructing advertisements, checking their insertion, auditing the bills, and relieving our customers of much bothersome detail that they might neglect.

Whether a contract be big or little it receives careful attention at our hands, as will also any questions an advertiser may have occasion to ask.

IT'S CLIMBING UP

THE TORONTO

Daily Star

(NINTH YEAR.)

is reaching for the 20,000 mark guaranteed circulation. It is a bright, attractive afternoon paper. Advertisers should not overlook THE STAR in making up their lists. This is the growing time in Canada. The expansion of trade is greater now than at any time previous since confederation. The trade returns of the Dominion increased during the last four years by $146,000,000. For 18 years previous the trade of the country only represented an increase of $66,000,000. This is a growth which is likely to continue under a stable tariff.

Read what leading advertisers in THE STAR say:

We believe THE STAR is one of the best advertising mediums in Canada. It occupies a front rank with the big dailies.—Edmanson, Bates & Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Toronto, Can.

We have had practical results from THE STAR, which convinces us that it is a good "puller." We feel certain we would lose much business if we had not advertised in THE STAR.—T. A. Slocum Chemical Co.

We have used THE STAR to advertise Salada Tea for some years past, and the fact that we are continuing to use it is the best proof of our belief in the results it brings us.—Salada Tea Co., Buffalo, N. Y.; Detroit, Mich.; Cleveland, O.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Boston, Mass.; Rochester, N. Y.; Montreal, Que.; Toronto, Ont.

Messrs. Rowell & Company,

Yours faithfully,

WE MAKE THIS SUGGESTION:

If you are going to do a little advertising pretty soon, divide your appropriation into three parts; say of $500 each. Spend $1,000 of it in the way you think best in weeklies or monthlies. Send $500 to us to be invested in dailies only. Then keep watch and see if you don't get more valuable returns from the $500 invested in the dailies than you do from the $1,000 invested in other papers.

Live advertisers to-day use daily papers. They don't need to use anything else. The daily paper cuts quick and cuts deep. Address

OVER 1,000 CIRCULATION.

ONE THOUSAND IS THE GENERAL ADVERTISER'S UNIT OF VALUE. TO THE GENERAL ADVERTISER PAPERS OF LESS THAN A THOUSAND ISSUES ARE NOT OF MUCH ACCOUNT, BECAUSE THE COST OF WATCHING CONTRACTS AND KEEPING ACCOUNTS, ADDED TO THE LOWEST OBTAINABLE PRICE (NO MATTER HOW LOW), GENERALLY MAKES THEM TOO DEAR TO BE PROFITABLE. OF ALL THE PUBLICATIONS DESCRIBED IN THIS BOOK NEARLY THREE QUARTERS ARE RATED IN THE "JKL" CLASS, LEAVING LESS THAN SIX THOUSAND THAT ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE A CIRCULATION EACH ISSUE OF ONE THOUSAND COPIES AND UPWARDS. A CATALOGUE OF THESE HERE FOLLOWS.

EVERY PUBLISHER OF A NEWSPAPER ENTITLED TO A HIGHER CIRCULATION RATING THAN IS ACCORDED IN THIS BOOK KNOWS THAT IT WAS HIS PRIVILEGE TO HAVE HIS EXACT FIGURES INSERTED HAD HE BEEN ABLE AND WILLING TO FURNISH THEM, AND THAT IT IS HIS PRIVILEGE TO NOW FURNISH THE REQUISITE INFORMATION AND THEREBY SECURE A CORRECT RATING IN THE NEXT ISSUE, WHICH COMES OUT THREE MONTHS LATER. IN CASES WHERE A PUBLISHER IS UNWILLING TO SUPPLY THE REQUISITE INFORMATION, THE EXPERIENCE OF THE EDITOR OF THE DIRECTORY HAS TAUGHT HIM THAT IT IS ALWAYS FOR A REASON MORE SATISFACTORY TO THE PUBLISHER THAN IT WOULD BE TO AN ADVERTISER WHO IS THINKING OF USING THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF THE PAPER.*

Four Years of Prosperity

are reasonably certain for the American business world—sound money and protection to industries have their influence all over the country—people will have more money to spend and the shrewd advertiser, who's up early, will catch his full share of it.

Judicious advertising will bring larger returns, because more money is afloat, both for necessities and luxuries.

Advertising matter in newspapers and periodicals increases in volume every year—much of it is indifferent and commonplace. The strong, bold and characteristic kind—the kind that sticks out head and shoulders above the sea of mediocrity—is the kind that pays.

It is our desire to work with advertisers, large or small, that can be benefited by our services.

SOME ADVERTISING FACTS.

Printers' Ink, published by George P. Rowell & Co., refers editorially to the fact that an attempt was made in the Georgia Legislature to give the legal advertising in each county to the paper having the largest circulation, and gives credit to the editor of the Carroll FREE PRESS as the principal factor in bringing the matter about. This line has been kept standing in the FREE PRESS and unchallenged: "The FREE PRESS has double the circulation of any paper in the county."

What Advertisers Say.– I have advertised pianos and organs in the FREE PRESS and have been advertising in other papers, but the advertisement in the FREE PRESS paid better than all of them together. L. Y. ALLGOOD.

We used advertising space in the FREE PRESS to great advantage. We sold two car loads of machinery, amounting to over $3,000, on a $5.00 adv. running in the FREE PRESS. Carrollton, Ga., January 10, 1901. T. M. CHANDLER & SON.

Carroll County is one of the best counties in the State, standing third in list of 122 cotton growing counties of Georgia. The subscription books are open to advertisers. It carries no deadheads. Not only the largest list of any local paper, but the best list. Official organ of county and city. Small classified ads solicited. 10 lines 3 months, $1.00. Address

Like Warfare

Modern business is like warfare, and although the sinews are of a peaceful character, the contest depends on good generalship, modern weapons and a strategy that goes hand in hand with constant vigilance.

Advertising, skillfully and rightly directed, always taking advantage of changed conditions, is one of the modern weapons that carry within the element of commercial victory.

Such advertising must be well planned, well written and well placed. We like to hear from business men who want such advertising. We plan, write, illustrate, print and place publicity; we do all of these, or any desired part of them. If interested, call on or write to

The contest for commercial supremacy is on. The United States are destined to be the biggest factor in the commerce of the future by reason of natural advantages, resources and superior ability.

It means greater markets, sharper competition at home and abroad.

It requires more and skillfully directed advertising.

Under equally favorable conditions, the manufacturer with the best taken care of advertising will have and maintain a decided advantage over his less alert competitors.

We aim to be of valuable aid to manufacturers of the first-class type.

We plan, write, illustrate, print and place advertising; we do all or any desired part of these. Call on or write to

George P. Rowell & Co.,

THE ILLUSTRATED NAVY CHRONICLE,

A Monthly Journal of Current Naval Events. Established 1899.

243 BROADWAY, N. Y. CITY.

It Has An Exclusive Naval World of Its Own. Everything Naval.

Covering the personnel U. S. Navy, U. S. Marine Corps, U. S. Naval Reserves, U. S. Spanish-American War Naval Veterans, U. S. Navy Yards and Stations, Veterans of Farragut's Fleet and (official organ) of National Association Naval Veterans, U. S. of A.

It has a strong personal prestige with this field. If not we certainly would not have a large paid-in-advance subscription list, and carry leading advertisers, some by the year, after one or two trial advertisements. Our subscribers have a direct interest in our advertisers, THE CHRONICLE being their only representative organ. Monthly, twenty pages, 10 x 14 inches. $1 the year. Advertising rates fifteen cents per line. Flat, no discount for time or space.

SUNDAY NEWSPAPERS.

A LIST IN ALPHABETICAL ORDER BY STATES AND TOWNS, RECAPITULATING ALL NEWSPAPERS HAVING A SUNDAY ISSUE ACCORDED IN PART I. A CIRCULATION RATING OF 1,000 AND UPWARDS.

ONE THOUSAND IS THE GENERAL ADVERTISER'S UNIT OF VALUE. TO THE GENERAL ADVERTISER PAPERS OF LESS THAN A THOUSAND ISSUES ARE NOT OF MUCH ACCOUNT, BECAUSE THE COST OF WATCHING CONTRACTS AND KEEPING ACCOUNTS, ADDED TO THE LOWEST OBTAINABLE PRICE (NO MATTER HOW LOW), GENERALLY MAKES THEM TOO DEAR TO BE PROFITABLE. OF ALL THE PUBLICATIONS DESCRIBED IN THIS BOOK NEARLY THREE-QUARTERS ARE RATED IN THE "JKL" CLASS, LEAVING LESS THAN SIX THOUSAND WHICH ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE A CIRCULATION EACH ISSUE OF ONE THOUSAND COPIES AND UPWARDS.

EVERY PUBLISHER OF A NEWSPAPER ENTITLED TO A HIGHER CIRCULATION RATING THAN IS ACCORDED IN THIS BOOK KNOWS THAT IT WAS HIS PRIVILEGE TO HAVE HIS EXACT FIGURES INSERTED HAD HE BEEN ABLE AND WILLING TO FURNISH THEM, AND THAT IT IS HIS PRIVILEGE TO NOW FURNISH THE REQUISITE INFORMATION AND THEREBY SECURE A CORRECT RATING IN THE NEXT ISSUE, WHICH COMES OUT THREE MONTHS LATER. IN CASES WHERE A PUBLISHER IS UNWILLING TO SUPPLY THE REQUISITE INFORMATION, THE EXPERIENCE OF THE EDITOR OF THE DIRECTORY HAS TAUGHT HIM THAT IT IS ALWAYS FOR A REASON MORE SATISFACTORY TO THE PUBLISHER THAN IT WOULD BE TO AN ADVERTISER WHO IS THINKING OF USING THE ADVERTISING COLUMNS OF THAT PAPER.*

and the wheels of industry are turning with ceaseless activity.

New and wider markets are sought and found for American products.

Are yours as fully and widely represented to the public as they deserve?

Are you getting the full share of the business to which you know you are entitled?

Is your advertising looked after and executed with as much care and knowledge as you employ in your factory where your goods are made?

We are advertising agents, who aim to assist manufacturers in some or all parts of the essential details of publicity and thus help them to sell more goods. We plan, write, illustrate, print and place advertising. If interested call on or write to

How to Advertise

If you don't know how to spend your money for advertising, or if your present service is unsatisfactory, talk with us.

Many advertisers have wasted money, thrown much of it away, you might say, because their advertising was improperly placed, poorly bought, or both.

It is our business to place advertising where it will bring best results.

If your advertising is unprofitable, if you are dissatisfied or perplexed, if you contemplate something additional or new, we shall be glad to confer with you with a view of doctoring and reinvigorating the old, or devising a new, practical and business-getting campaign.

The finest organization that advertising experience, skill and equipment can produce will be found at your disposal at our office.

We will also write, illustrate and print your advertising literature.

Our work embraces every detail, we assume all the labor and worry, you get the results.

Sometimes you must trust somebody.

N advertiser who says to the agent in whom he has confidence, "I have so much money to spend, please invest it where it will get the best results," is likely to secure a better service for his outlay than another who insists upon knowing in advance exactly what the agent will promise to do, although not personally competent to pass upon the excellence of the plan or list of papers when it is spread before him. An estimate covering a specific list of papers, at a certain price, sometimes ties the agent's hands and precludes him from availing himself of a good opportunity that may present itself, but which he might not have been able to promise in advance. Our experience and knowledge as advertising agents are at the service of our customers.

NEWSPAPER advertising is the best sort of advertising for the man who has an article that can be used by everybody. It is not, however, always just the kind of advertising that should be used on all occasions for every business. Advertising, like medicine, has to be adapted to the business expected to be benefited. Having made a study of advertising we are specialists in that branch of industry, and competent to prepare and place advertising in such a way as is calculated to most quickly and economically meet the business requirement.

It is interesting to observe how evenly papers of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association are divided into two classes, the first willing to have advertisers know how many copies they issue, the second having a preference for keeping such information to themselves.

A few years ago the editor of the American Newspaper Directory sought a conference with this Association, at its annual meeting, for the purpose of perfecting a plan of reporting circulations. The question was warmly discussed, and the members were found to be so evenly divided that the vote for the conference was carried by a bare majority, and an hour later was reconsidered, and decided in the negative, by an equally slim majority, the reconsideration being proposed and carried by the persuasive orator of the Asssociation, Mr. O'Meara, of the Boston Journal, a paper that has not often cared to make any definite statement about the actual number of its output. Of the papers enumerated as furnishing reports upon which a correct circulation might be accorded one, the Washington, D. C., Times, has its Directory rating embellished with what are designated as doubt marks (#), the meaning of which is explained as follows:

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts.

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts, and it is feared that the doubts expressed do rest upon a substantial foundation.

The editor of the American Newspaper Directory has offered to prove the correctness of a circulation statement furnished by this paper, provided the publisher of the paper would agree to place the necessary facilities at his disposal. It was stipulated that the verification should be without cost to the publisher of the paper, but to this offer the publisher's response was not such as to thoroughly remove the impression of doubt that had been cast on the accuracy of the statement furnished.

Of the papers not having circulation ratings in plain figures no less than 59 have the rating letter qualified by the auxiliary letter Y, which is explained by the Directory key as follows:

A Y rating signifies that no recent circulation statement has been furnished from the office of the paper, and a consequent probability that the circulation rating accorded to it may be higher than a new statement would warrant.

Of the papers not having circulation ratings in plain figures seven have the rating letter qualified by the auxiliary letter Z, which is explained by the Directory key as follows:

A Z rating indicates that a communication received, in answer to an application for revision or correction of the circulation rating accorded to the paper, failed to be a satisfactory circulation report because of some one of the following shortcomings: 1. It was not signed. 2. It was not dated. 3. It was not definite. 4. It was not given with sufficient attention to detail. 5. It did not specify the time supposed to be covered by the report. 6. It did not cover a period of sufficient duration. 7. It was signed with a hand stamp. 8. It was signed by some person whose authority to sign was not explained or known. 9. It was signed by an initial or by initials only. 10. It was not given in such a way as would make it possible to hold any one responsible for the information it purported to give, should it afterwards be proven untrue. Also the further fact that although the attention of the publisher was directed to the insufficiency of the report, and full information was furnished him just how the fault might be remedied, it had not been cured at the time the last revision was completed for the printer.

It may be observed that one of the papers not having a circulation rating in plain figures has the auxiliary rating letter Z further modified by the numerals (3, 4, 5), the meaning of which is given above in connection with the explanation of the meaning conveyed by the letter Z when attached to a letter rating. They may be here recapitulated:

No. 3 means that the circulation statement sent in was not definite.

No. 4 means that the circulation statement sent in was not given with sufficient attention to detail.

No. 5 means that the circulation statement sent in did not specify the time supposed to be covered by it.

In future issues of the Directory it is the intention that the qualifying letter Z, when attached to a circulation rating, shall in all cases be differentiated by added numerals from one to ten, as explained in the paragraph printed above, telling the meaning conveyed by the letter Z. It will be noted that the Z rating is not applied without notice to the paper of the insufficiency of the report which he has sent in. Publishers of papers having Z ratings are quite likely to SAY they think the Directory a blackmailing enterprise. Not one of these actually thinks so.

Two members of the Association, the Waterbury (Conn.) American and the Meriden (Conn.) Journal, are accorded a J K L circulation rating, i. e., less than a thousand copies average output. It would seem as though the Directory might be in error here.

The case of one other, the Cincinnati Volksblatt, designated by the delta marks (ΔΔ), is also interesting.

(ΔΔ) No recent copy of this publication has been seen at the office of the Directory, and it may have ceased publication altogether.

One more instance shall close this review of the membership of the A. N. P. A. The Dayton (Ohio) Herald is referred to having its circulation rating letter H modified by the qualifying Z and further modified by the double daggers (††), which are explained as follows:

(††) This publication is a "kicker"—unfriendly to the objects of the Newspaper Directory and gives little information.

The ⊙⊙ marks used above are explained as follows:

(⊙⊙) Advertisers value this paper more for the class and quality of its circulation than for the mere number of copies printed. Among the old chemists gold was symbolically represented by the sign ⊙.—Webster's Dictionary.

The March issue of the American Newspaper Directory for 1901 is the first quarterly issue for the thirty-third year of a publication which inaugurated, a third of a century ago, the first effort that had ever been made, in this or any other country, to ascertain and state newspaper circulation, somewhat in the way that a mercantile agency deals with the capital and credit of business firms. Money is not the only basis of credit in mercantile life, nor is the number of copies printed the only thing to be considered in fixing the advertising value of a newspaper. In both cases character is an important factor; just how important and how measured depends upon a variety of considerations. It is not often in the affairs of this world that it is permitted to one man to manage an enterprise for a period so long as a third of a century, but in the case of the Newspaper Directory the man who directed the first volume in 1869, Mr. Geo. P. Rowell, is the same who overlooks the revision for 1901. The method of ascertaining and stating the circulation has been a growth, a development. In the beginning there was no criterion by which the compiler might be guided, and as the information on the subject was for the benefit of the advertiser, and as his interest was not so much in what the issue of the paper may have been as it would be in knowing what publicity could be given by it to his announcement to appear to-morrow, next week, next month, or for a year to come; so it came about, in the early days, that the inquiry came to be practically a question of how many copies the publisher expected to issue, and this appealed so strongly to the hopeful nature of newspaper men that they were at times led into setting down figures that were not reached, on account of causes not foreseen or measured at their full im portance. As years have passed, the conclusion has been arrived at that

Newspaper Publishers' Association as catalogued in this article, will note that some excellent publications are among the class who will not tell how many copies they print, while among those who do tell there are few, if any, that are not the safest way of foretelling what will be the circulation of a paper for a year to come is to be found in a consideration of what it has actually been for a year that has passed.

Those who carefully scan the papers in the two divisions of the American of the highest grade. The tendency among advertisers is strong and growing to keep out of papers that will not let their circulation be known. The moving cause of this tendency is the influence exerted by the American Newspaper Directory and PRINTERS' INK.

THOSE NEWSPAPER MAPS.

CORRESPONDENCE AND COMMENT.

In PRINTERS' INK of February 27 was printed a series of fifty-two maps of the States and Territories of the Union, with the following explanation:

A year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK will be presented FREE to anybody and everybody who shows that there is a town or city in the United States in which a paper is published, that has an average issue of so much as a thousand copies, and is not given a place on the appropriate map of the interesting series shown on the fifty-two pages that follow this. These maps indicate in what portion of each State populations are densest. There is where advertising will pay best.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 5, 1901.

PRINTERS' INK, 10 Spruce St., New York City, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN—Copy of PRINTERS' INK of Feb. 27 was received this morning. We notice your interesting maps showing towns containing papers having over 1,000 circulation. We beg to call your attention to the city of Grass Valley, which should have a place on the California map about where the letter "A" appears in Sierra, near Auburn. In the city of Grass Valley is published a paper called Grass Valley Union, which publishes a daily average of 1,845 copies. Of course we cannot swear to this, but we have had the proprietor's word for it, and have known him for a number of years and have always found him truthful. His paper is probably the best country daily in California. This information we believe entitles us to one year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK free, as per your statement on page 57. While writing we will also state that it is a safe bet that the towns of Auburn, Woodland, St. Helena, Half Moon Bay and San Louis Obispo might be erased from the map without doing an injustice to any one. Redding and Marysville are the two largest towns in California north of Sacramento, and neither are listed on your map. We know the Search Light and Free Press of Redding both issue over 1,000 copies of their weekly papers, while their dailies do not reach that amount. So far as daily papers are concerned your map of California is almost correct, but probably a number of papers throughout the State that have over 1,000 subscribers to their weekly edition are not on your map. Yours truly,

Per Swasey. BARNHART & SWASEY.

The point about Grass Valley is well taken. A recent issue of PRINTERS' INK contained proof that the Union is a paper of great excellence. There are indications that the remarks about Auburn, Woodland, St. Helena, Half Moon Bay and San Louis Obispo have about them a basis of probability, for recent circulation reports from there seem to be of the character usually entitling the papers to a Z rating, explained elsewhere in this article. St. Helena, however, has a 50-cent monthly that could hardly live on an issue of less than a thousand copies. So far as Redding and Marysville are concerned there seems to be no satisfactory proof that either has a paper with so large an average issue as a thousand copies.

COLORADO.

JOPLIN, Mo., Feb. 28, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

GENTLEMEN—At Pueblo, Col., there is a newspaper published by the name of the Daily Chieftain that has more than 1,000 circulation, and is not given in your newspaper maps in recent issue of PRINTERS' INK. I will take the PRINTERS' INK one year gratis on you.

Yours very truly,

CLYDE C. BUCKINGHAM.

JOPLIN, Mo., Feb. 28, 1901.

You have missed one of the best towns in Colorado. That town is Pueblo, Col., with a population of 28,000. It has several papers of over 1,000. I will take PRINTERS' INK one year on you. Yours very truly,

CLYDE C. BUCKINGHAM,
Adv. Mgr., News-Herald.

46 ABBOTT COURT, CHICAGO, Ill.

It is my impression that there are papers in Pueblo, Col., issuing to exceed 1,000 copies per issue. Yours truly, H. A. BABB.

"THE CANON CITY RECORD."
GUY U. HARDY, Proprietor.
CANON CITY, Col., March 3, 1901.

GENTLEMEN—I notice the maps in PRINTERS' INK of Feb. 27 and the offer for corrections. I can give you mine.

First.—Canon City, Col., has a paper which "has an average issue of so much as 1,000 copies." The Canon City Record has not printed fewer than 1,000 copies for any issue during the past year, and the average has been above 1,300.

Second.—Pueblo, Col., is a city of 30,000 or 40,000 people, and has three dailies, each of which has more than the 1,000 average circulation, I think. I know one, the Chieftain, has several thousand.

Third.—I certainly believe that Salida, Telluride, Durango, and perhaps Boulder and Greely (all Colorado), ought to be on the map. However, I cannot give you definite information on the point.

Fourth.—Albion, Edwards County, Ill.

Respectfully, GUY U. HARDY, Proprietor.

On Mr. Hardy's unequivocal statement, signed and dated, Canon City shall have a place on the map and Hardy shall receive the reward. The Pueblo, Salida and Boulder papers nearly all have a weakness for circulation statements with loopholes in them. It is a pity they cannot be induced to adopt Mr. Hardy's straightforward way of stating their issues. Really, though, a thousand is a good many copies. It is not thought that any publication in Telluride, Durango or Greely has ever claimed to print as many as a thousand copies average issue. They are modest and honest.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

PATHFINDER, D. C., March 2, 1901.

Geo. P. Rowell & Co., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

GENTLEMEN—Kindly call in all copies of PRINTERS' INK of date of Feb. 27 and insert Pathfinder in your map of the District of Columbia, or, in lieu of that, advance our subscription to the "Daddy of Many Babies" one year. How'd you make the "bull," anyhow? Did you dream that the Pathfinder's circulation had dwindled from the 29,039 that you credit us in your September, 1900, issue of your directory, to less than 1,000. We're not in the dwindling business; i. e., our figures show average circulation for this year, 34,423.

Remember Ripans clear the head.

Very truly,
THE PATHFINDER PUBLISHING CO.,
C. H. Seaton, Secretary.

WATERFORD, Pa., Feb. 25, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

In the District of Columbia, U. S. A., there is the postoffice of Pathfinder, at which a paper is published having an average circulation of more than 1,000 each issue. Send my copy of PRINTERS' INK one year to

D. A. WESTCOTT, Erie Co., Waterford, Pa.

Pathfinder, D. C., is omitted from your map.

As no map of the District of Columbia was published, possibly the claim for a free subscription to PRINTERS' INK is not in this case made out. Pathfinder may be a postoffice, but it is not a place. It probably exists mainly in the imagination of some $800-a-year clerk of the Postoffice Department.

GEORGIA.

THE GEORGIA MARBLE FINISHING WORKS.

CANTON, Ga., March 1, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

GENTLEMEN: In the map of Georgia the town of Canton was omitted, though it has a paper (The Cherokee Advance) which issues over 1,600 copies, and is, I understand, rated in your Directory. So please enter my name for a year's subscription for your "Little Schoolmaster" and greatly oblige Very truly yours,

EDWARD J. MAGUIRE.

The March issue of the American Newspaper Directory accords The Cherokee Advance a rating that entitles Canton to a place on the map and Mr. Maguire to receive the reward offered.

ILLINOIS.

233 5TH AVE., CHICAGO, Ill.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

Replying to p. 57, PRINTERS' INK, Feb. 27, would give Cairo, Ill. Yours,

GEO. W. IRVING.

It looks a little as though Mr. Irving does not know Cairo.

CHENOA, Ill., March 6, 1901.

The Chenoa Clipper has a proved circulation of 1,100, allowing advertisers coming in on press days and count papers. The editor, Mr. E. S. Pike, whose attention I have drawn to this advertisement, claims that he has had sent you certified statement which you acknowledged as satisfactory and would give him rating of over 1,000. If correct please send me PRINTERS' INK as per your offer.

Respectfully yours, T. R. SCHUIRMANN.

CHENOA, Ill., March 7, 1901.

I am rated over 1,000 in the March, 1901, Directory. Please tell me why I am not on the map. Yours truly,

E. S. PIKE,
Prop'r The Chenoa Clipper,
Guaranteed circulation over 1,100.

Mr. Pike is correct. The March Directory gives his paper a circulation rating that entitles Chenoa to a place on the map.

POLO, Ill., March 7, 1901.

I wish to call your attention to the Tri-County Press, published at Milledgeville, Ill., as having a circulation of over 1,500. Mr. A. T. Cowan, the editor, would, no doubt, substantiate my claim. ROBERT ALLEN.

It is hardly likely that Editor Cowan will attempt so much.

INDIANA.

DENVER, Col., March 5, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

According to your offer of one year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK, as given on p. 57, of the issue of Feb. 27, I call your attention to Anderson, Ind. You may send PRINTERS' INK to my address as given below.

Very truly yours,
Dr. J. F. BOWERS,
Barth Block, Denver, Col.

The March issue of the American Newspaper Directory does accord a circulation exceeding a thousand copies to the Anderson Herald, the daily, the Sunday and the weekly issues. The Bulletin, published there, makes its circulation statements with loopholes in them and gets its J K L rating embellished with a Z modification. The meaning of the Z rating is explained below. It is largely devoted to embellishing the ratings of papers that think they have large circulations, but are not good at keeping records.

A Z rating indicates that a communication received, in answer to an application for revision or correction of the circulation rating accorded to the paper, failed to be a satisfactory circulation report because of one or more of the following shortcomings: 1. It was not signed. 2. It was not dated. 3. It was not definite. 4. It was not given with sufficient attention to detail. 5. It did not specify the time supposed to be covered by the report. 6. It did not cover a period of sufficient duration. 7. It was signed with a hand stamp. 8. It was signed by some person whose authority to sign was not explained or known. 9. It was signed by an initial or by initials only. 10. It was not given in such a way as would make it possible to hold any one responsible for the information it purported to give, should it afterwards be proven untrue. Also the further fact that although the attention of the publisher was directed to the insufficiency of the report and full information was furnished him just how the fault might be remedied, it had not been cured at the time the last revision was completed for the printer.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Office of the
COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 1, 1901.

I think I am entitled to your offer of a year's subscription free, as per your offer in your issue of Feb, 27, 1901, page 57.

I fail to see Bloomington, Monroe County, Ind., noted on the map of that State in said issue of PRINTERS' INK. As for papers in that city having an average issue of 1,000 copies, I will name the Daily Telephone, W. S. Bradfute, editor; the Courier (daily), Cravens Bros., editors; the Star (weekly), H. J. Felters, editor.

If upon investigation you find I am correct in stating the above mentioned papers to have an issue of more than a thousand copies in one or all cases I will be delighted to be favored with a year's free subscription as per your offer. Respectfully yours,

JOHN R. MOORE,
Care of Office of Internal Revenue,
Washington, D. C.

The editor of the Directory has never been able to discover that any Bloomington paper ever made a claim to issuing so many as a thousand copies.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 8, 1901.

I think you will find on close investigation that the Republican Weekly of Columbus, Ind., issues 1,000 copies each week, and Columbus, Ind., does not appear on the map. Yours very truly, J. N. CRABB.

Investigation fails to sustain Mr. Crabb's impression.

THE GLIDDEN VARNISH CO.
CLEVELAND, O., March 2, 1901.

The city of Connersville does not appear on your Indiana map, and by referring to Edward P. Remington's Newspaper Directory for 1900 I find that this city has three papers, each of which has a circulation of more than 1,000. They are as follows: The Examiner, 1,750; the News, 1,100; the Times, 1,400.

Under existing circumstances I feel that I am entitled to a year's subscription of PRINTERS' INK, and ask that you kindly advise me at address given below whether I am entitled to such subscription in your estimation. If I am entitled to same, please see that the paper is forwarded to address below. Awaiting your reply, I am, yours respectfully,

M. F. EMRICH,
211 Cook ave., Lakewood, O.

The editor of the Directory has not been able to learn that any Connersville paper even claimed to issue as many as a thousand copies regularly. If all papers printed as many copies as one might be led to believe from an examination of the Remington Directory spruce trees would become extinct in a year.

IOWA.

ALDEN, Iowa, March 2, 1901.

There is a town out here in Iowa by the name of Iowa Falls, in which there is a paper published with a circulation of 1,800. The inclosed clippings explain details, and on your inclosed map you will find where Iowa Falls belongs. The publisher, Ira D. Nichols, I have known for some time and believe his statements in regard to the circulation of the Citizen to be true. If you want further proof write any of the city officials.

As you state that you will give a year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK free, I would like to have you send me it for one year from January, 1902—making it to January, 1903.

Very Respectfully, F. B. WOOD.

The Citizen publishes the simple line, "Circulation 1,800." The American Newspaper Directory marks the Citizen (△ △), which means "no recent copy seen—paper may be dead." Perhaps the proprietor counts five readers for each copy printed, in which case his 1,800 circulation is between three and four hundred. Mr. Wood will hardly get the reward offered without furnishing further information. Mr. Wood is too optimistic for an advertising manager. He swallows round figures too easily. He ought to be a Christian Scientist.

MONTOUR, Iowa, March 2, 1901.
PRINTERS' INK, New York:

We notice in last issue of your paper that you will give a year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK to any and every person who shows that there is a town or city in the United States in which a paper is published that has an average issue of so much as a thousand copies, and not given a place upon the series of fifty-two maps which you publish in that issue. We find that the town of Traer is not given upon the map, while the circulation of the Star-Clipper has not been less than 2,600 for some time and now claims a circulation of 3,000. We are quite confident that this paper has a circulation exceeding 1,000 copies, and we have reason to believe that the publisher's claim of 3,000 is nearer the correct figure. You may put me down for a year's subscription, and oblige, Yours Respectfully,

GEO. F. ROBB,
Editor and Proprietor Montour Courier.

P. S.—As we are already on your list we would prefer advertising space in classified columns in preference to the subscription. If you can do this please credit us the amount.

The Star-Clipper may have the circulation talked of, but the reward is only offered for the discovery of a paper that does have. Improve your information, Mr. Robb, and furnish facts and the reward will be forthcoming if you earn it.

KANSAS.

"WEEKLY X-RAYS."
ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., March 5, 1901.
Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

Arkansas City is not noted as one of the cities having a paper with over 1,000 circulation. Data in your office shows the X-Rays is entitled to have Arkansas City on the map. This notice is not sent especially to secure the prize offered, but to secure proper credit for Arkansas City in so valuable a publication as the Little Schoolmaster. Yours very truly, HENRY B. FUNK.

According to the March issue of the Directory, Mr. Funk is right.

Office of
THE KANSAS CITY "STAR."

The News, of Peabody, Kan., has in excess of 1,000 circulation. I am acquainted with their subscription solicitor, who has been steadily at work in Union County for nearly a year, getting new subscribers. I think you can get publisher's affidavit. If I have earned a year of the Little Schoolmaster send it to me at Room 9, Navarro Building. Yours, etc.,

J. F. WHITING.

The News is a new paper. It may issue a thousand copies, but no proof of it is on file at the Directory office.

"THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE."
Business Department.
CHICAGO, March 9, 1901.

I beg to call your attention to the omission of the following towns in the State of Kansas that have papers of more than 1,000 circulation:

Independence, county seat of Montgomery County—the Star and Kansan (W.), 1,300. Independence has a population of between four and five thousand, and is the county seat of one of the best counties in Southeastern Kansas. Coffeyville, also of Montgomery County, with a population of between five and six thousand, has the Journal (W.), circulation of 1,400.

Arkansas City, with a population of between six and seven thousand, has four papers—Arkansas Valley Democrat, circulation of 1,050; Gate City Journal (W.), 1,000; the Traveler (D.), 1,350, and the Traveler (W.), 1,600. Arkansas City is one of the best towns in Cowley County, which has a population of over 30,000, and is a big stock and grain shipping point.

El Dorado, county seat of Butler County—Industrial Advocate (W.), 1,400; Republican, (W.), 1,500; Walnut Valley Times (W.), 1,118.

The above named towns are all in the southeastern portion of the State in the great natural gas and oil belt, also the wealthiest part of the State. The fact that I have visited each of these towns and am familiar with the surrounding country caused me to notice the omission of these names in your map.

Complimenting you on being able to supply your readers of PRINTERS' INK with so valuable a collection of maps, and wishing you continued success, I beg to remain yours respectfully, EDWIN S. OSBORN.

7239 Perry Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The March issue of the American Newspaper Directory credits the Coffeyville Journal with an average issue in 1900 of 1,272 copies in accordance with its publisher's claim. In Arkansas City a weekly called X-Rays, sold for 50 cents a year, gets credit for an average issue of 1,274 copies.

El Dorado was overlooked by Mr. Osborn when he examined the map. Two papers there, Advocate and Republican, get credit for over a thousand issues, but the Times does not.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., March 12, 1901.

In looking over the maps published in your Feb. 27 number, I was somewhat surprised not to see Fort Scott there. I felt sure I had heard representatives of both local papers speak of their large circulation, so interested myself in investigating, especially as you make such a liberal and to me important offer for any one showing a city that should be on the maps. I am informed by two representatives of the Evening Tribune, one of whom is the circulation editor, that the average circulation of that paper is something like 1,400 and 1,500. I have endeavored to obtain a written statement from them but am unable to do so. I am myself convinced from observation that it is worthy of being included in the 1,000 rank. The reason I have interested myself is that PRINTERS' INK is the one paper I take pleasure in thoroughly reading. The day it arrives at the Y. M. C. A. is a "red letter" day. I would like a copy each week for myself.

Respectfully, C. FRED BRAENDLIN.

Mr. Braendlin has more faith than facts. Written, signed and dated statements from "circulation editors" come pretty hard.

KENTUCKY, ALABAMA, MISSISSIPPI.

LOUISVILLE COLLEGE OF DENTISTRY,
LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 4, 1901.

Apropos of your offer in the last issue of PRINTERS' INK, offering a year's subscription to any one giving you the name of a paper having over a thousand subscribers that was not on the map, I beg leave to submit the following:

Mayfield (Ky.) Mirror, semi-weekly; Sheffield (Ala.) Reaper, weekly; Oxford (Miss.) Globe, weekly; Oxford (Miss.) Eagle, weekly.

Yours truly, E. T. MCCARTHY.

If Professor McCarthy does not know more about dentistry than he does about circulation, he ought to be hazed. So far as has been ascertained, from proof available here or conveyed by Prof. McC., none of the papers mentioned has ever claimed to issue a thousand copies.

LOUISIANA.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 6, 1901.

Our city can boast of a paper 1,200 circulation. Send me PRINTERS' INK one year. I will appreciate same, as I am a reader of your paper. Yours, A. M. KAUFMAN, Cigars and Stationery, RR. Ticket Broker.

Mr. Kaufman fails to win the prize. What is asked for is not a city that "can boast of a paper with a thousand circulation," but a city that actually does publish such a paper.

MAINE.

East Sumner, Me., the home of Prosperity, with 4,356 circulation. Please extend Prosperity's subscription to PRINTERS' INK one year, and more especially print a corrected map of Maine in an early issue.

East Sumner, Me., March 14, 1901.

According to the March Directory East Sumner is entitled to a place on the map.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BROCKTON, Mass., March 1, 1901.

Do I read you aright in your issue of Feb. 27? A year's free subscription to any one who shows a city in the United States having a paper of 1,000 circulation that is not shown on your very instructive maps in that number?

If so, kindly send the Little Schoolmaster along. But alas! that poor Taunton should be left off the Massachusetts map. City, 55,000.

To report his circulation in such a way as actually to convey information to an inquirer, it is deemed necessary that a publisher shall state in detail what it has been for every issue for an entire year.

[It will be noted that this report is signed with a pen by one whose authority to sign is apparent or clearly stated.]

with four papers of accredited circulation of over 1,000 copies each per day.

It will be a warm day for any PRINTERS' INK man who is found in Taunton for awhile.

HEMAN ELDREDGE,
Care Enterprise, Brockton, Mass.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

The map of Massachusetts on p. 27 does not show the city of Taunton. I am not at this time prepared to "prove" that the town possesses a paper having a circulation of over 1,000 per issue, but I feel certain such is the case. There are three fairly good papers there—the Gazette, credited with about 4,000; Herald, about the same number, and the News, about 2,500. It seems almost incredible that a city having a population of 31,036 in 1900 should not possess a paper with a circulation of over 1,000; although I understand that Providence and Boston papers have a large sale.

I am already a subscriber to PRINTERS' INK, but for my own information I should like to be more fully advised regarding the truth of your statement. Yours truly,

RAYMOND & WHITCOMB CO.,
By Chas. S. Knowlton, Agent.

103 WARREN AVE., BOSTON, March 2, 1901.

I find that the city of Taunton, Mass., is left off the map. In that city is published the Herald, with an issue of 5,000 copies; also the Gazette, with an issue of 4,380 copies. These figures are taken from Pettingill & Co.'s 1900 Directory.

Hoping the above answers the requirements and that I am entitled to a year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK free, I remain, yours respectfully, G. R. DUNHAM.

The impression prevails that Taunton (Good Lord!) has never amounted to much since the herring fishery dried up, and that the few people there who can read subscribe for Boston and Providence weeklies—the Olive Branch, True Flag, Gleason's Pictorial and others. Pettingill's Directory is known to be notoriously inaccurate, but it is hardly possible it could have the nerve to accord a rating of over a thousand copies to any paper printed in Taunton. If so then Greene's Nervura must be getting in its work.

HOLYOKE, Mass., March 3, 1901.

I think I am entitled to a year's subscription to your publication, according to the terms stated in your article on newspaper maps, as you left out in your map of Massachusetts the town of Easthampton, whose paper, the Easthampton News, the manager informs me, has a guaranteed, bona fide circulation of more than 1,200 copies, and has had for some years. If I am correct, should like to have subscription commence at the termination of the present subscription of Livermore & Martin. I think that the enormous Sunday circulation of some papers may be explained by the reason that a great amount of them is used in packing furniture, as a few days ago we took off five pounds of Sunday papers used in packing one chair.

Respectfully,
H. S. MARTIN,
Livermore & Martin, House Furnishers.

If the Easthampton paper prints as many as he thinks he does the Directory editor has never been able to find it out. If Mr. Martin can get the proof he shall receive his reward.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

The town of North Attleboro is not on the map of Massachusetts, p. 77. In North Attleboro is the Evening Chronicle, which has, I am very certain, a daily circulation of over 1,000 a day. Very truly, E. B. MERO.

What is wanted is a place that has a paper that prints a thousand copies. One that Mr. Mero is "very certain" prints more will not fill the bill. The proprietor of the Chronicle when he makes a circulation statement always appears to keep a loophole open. Doubtless his method of stating it is more convincing to Mr. Mero than it would be to the more experienced editor of the Newspaper Directory.

MICHIGAN.

Rex R. Case, an advertising man on Mr. Hearst's Chicago American, thinks the Daily Mining Journal, published at Marquette, Mich., has circulation enough to secure for Marquette a place on the map.

Probably the Mining Journal does pretty nearly reach the requisite point of excellence and importance, but circulation statements from it are of the class Z, modified with double question marks (??), explained elsewhere.

MINNESOTA.

MADELIA, Minn., March 4, 1901.

Beg leave to call attention to your offer on page 57, issue of Feb. 27, and beg leave to state that the Madelia Messenger has considerably over 1,000 subscribers. I think we showed this to Geo. P. Rowell & Co. on the chart sent to us about New Year time. Yours very truly, THE MADELIA MESSENGER.

John Bingham, Associate Editor.

In the March Directory Madelia is shown to be entitled to a place on the map, as claimed in the above letter.

MISSOURI.

NEW LONDON, Mo., Feb. 28, 1901.

Please name the manner of proof you require so we can comply with your terms. New London is not down on your map. The Ralls Co. Times has averaged more than a thousand copies for more than two years.

MAYHALL & HARRIS.

The way to prove it is to write down the number of copies printed of each issue for the last 52 weeks; add to find the sum total; divide by 52 to ascertain the average. Sign and date the statement and send it on. If it shows an average issue of so much as a thousand you get the reward. On the preceding page is printed a form of circulation statement that is generally found satisfactory to everybody.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 1, 1901.

I will name the town of South Omaha, Neb., having a paper, Drovers' Journal, which has a circulation exceeding a thousand. South Omaha is not on the Nebraska map.

Kindly extend my subscription for PRINTERS' INK for another year. I inclose you label herewith. Yours respectfully,

C. A. SOMMER.

If there is any such paper published the Directory editor never heard of it.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 13, 1901.

I will name the town of Columbus, Neb., in which there is a paper, the Nebraska Biene, which regularly prints more than 1,000 papers.

As I am a present subscriber of PRINTERS' INK, kindly extend my subscription for another year. Yours very truly, C. A. SOMMER.

The March Directory gives the Biene credit for the requisite circulation, and Mr. Sommer gets the prize.

NEW JERSEY.

RED BANK, N. J., March 2, 1901.

In last week's PRINTERS' INK you failed to place Long Branch on the map with towns having a paper of over 1,000 circulation.

Having formerly worked for the Long Branch Record, and knowing that it published over 2½ times that number of copies, I could not miss the opportunity of getting a year's subscription of the PRINTERS' INK.

You will find inclosed a letter from the Long Branch postmaster which will prove to you that the Record sends through that office an average of 796 copies per week. I inclose also a newsdealer's letter which certifies a sale of over 300 copies per week. These two will prove the Record's circulation to be over 1,000 per week. The Record delivers a large part of its circulation itself, and that could be easily proven as the circulation of 1,000, but I have no further interest in the matter than getting the PRINTERS' INK.

I live at Long Branch and am employed by the Red Bank Register. Kindly place subscription to my credit, and I will notify you when I want the year to begin. Yours truly,

HARRY TRUAX.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., March 1, 1901.

This is to certify that I sell over three hundred (300) copies of the Long Branch Record every week. Yours,

I. S. NEWMAN, Newsdealer.

UNITED STATES POSTOFFICE,
LONG BRANCH, N. J., March 1, 1901.

H. W. Truax:

DEAR SIR—The gross number of pounds of the Long Branch Record that have passed through this office for the three months ending Dec. 31, 1900, was 2,587 lbs. The Records will average 4 oz. each. A. T. WOOLLEY, P. M.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Feb. 26, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

The Long Branch Record, published weekly in that town by the F. M. Taylor Publishing Company, had an average weekly circulation during 1900 exceeding two thousand. In 1897, when I was employed there in the advertising department, the Record's circulation was never less than 1,700. In 1898 it went up to over 1,850. In 1899, when I left them to start a paper of my own, their circulation passed the 2,000 mark, and is now well above that amount.

The Long Branch Record is one of the best weekly newspapers published in the United States. It is sixteen, six-column pages every issue, is set on a linotype and is printed on a Cox duplex press. It is seventeen years old and is one of the Big Four of Monmouth County. The publishers own their own building, four stories of brick and stone, ride in an automobile and own bank stock. It is fair in its advertising rates, and treats everybody alike as to price and position. I am entirely disinterested in this matter, but I believe in giving credit where it belongs—to Long Branch and the Long Branch Record in this case it is certainly due. If further proof is necessary you can get it by addressing these publishers. My free subscription you may address to the public library at Asbury Park, N. J. Very truly yours,

Asbury Park Daily Journal.

Office of
"THE NEWSPAPER WORLD."
116 Nassau Street.
NEW YORK, March 1, 1901.

I desire to call your attention to the fact that you have omitted the town of Long Branch, N. J., in which is published the Long Branch Record, with a circulation of no less than 2,000 copies a week. I believe it is more, rather than less, but the exact figures will have to be obtained from Mr. F. M. Taylor, the publisher.

Kindly mail PRINTERS' INK to me at this address. I also call your attention to the misspelling of the word Asbury Park. Also to the fact that Redbank is two words [Red Bank]. Yours truly, N. W. PENFIELD.

In the March issue of the Directory Long Branch is shown to be entitled to a place on the map.

PAULSBORO, N. J., Feb. 2, 1901.

The town of Paulsboro is omitted from the map of New Jersey, and the Press, published by E. L. Leonard, has a weekly circulation of fifteen hundred (1,500) copies, not counting the sample copies sent out from time to time. I am foreman of the Press office, and can furnish an affidavit to the above if necessary. The actual average for the past year has been over twelve hundred copies, and since the Press enlarged from a four-page folio to an eight-page quarto the circulation has increased very rapidly and is still going up. A. G. DEANE.

The Directory for March credits the Press with a circulation exceeding a thousand copies and Mr. Deane is entitled to the reward.

NEW YORK.

26 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, March 2, 1901

I notice the only two places you give on Staten Island are Port Richmond and Stapleton. Now, there is published at New Brighton the Staten Islander, whose average circulation, I am given to understand, is about 2,300.

If upon investigation you find this claim is correct will you kindly extend my subscription for another year? I also call to your attention that at West New Brighton there is published the Richmond County Advance, whose regular average circulation is about 1,500 copies. If this is correct I take it for granted that my subscription will be extended still another year. Yours truly, H. W. DOREMUS.

These belong in New York City, Borough of Richmond. New York has a place on the map. The Staten Islander has a Z rating, but the Advance is not known to even claim an issue of a thousand copies.

MOUNT KISCO, N. Y., March 2, 1901.

I claim a year's subscription for absence of Peekskill on map on page 89, New York State. Paper, Highland Democrat, has over 1,000 circulation.

I also claim year's subscription to PRINTERS'

INK for absence of Port Chester on same map. Paper, Journal, has over 1,000.

These two years' subscriptions to be added to my present subscription, which expires May, 1902, extending it to 1904. Yours truly,

FRANK DROMGOOLE,
Editor and publisher Mt. Kisco Record, Mt. Kisco, Westchester Co., N.Y.

There is reason for believing that both the papers mentioned did at one time have circulations exceeding a thousand copies, but the reward is offered for the discovery of papers that do now and have for a year past printed that number or more.

NORTH CAROLINA.

SALISBURY, N. C., March 4, 1901.

DEAR SIR—Referring to your statement in issue of 27th ult. in regard to newspaper maps, I inclose editorial from recent issue of one of our daily papers, showing that its circulation exceeds one thousand copies daily, whereas Salisbury has no place on your map of North Carolina. The weekly edition of the other daily paper (Truth-Index) claims a circulation exceeding 1,000 copies. I also inclose copy of a new advertising paper which circulates (gratis) 1,000 copies weekly.

WARREN L. KLUTTY.

The inclosed clipping reads:

The Sun's circulation is between 1,000 and 1,100 daily and is increasing at a gratifying rate. It ought with its present growth to soon reach 1,200 or more.

The very wording of this indicates that the Sun is not entitled to be credited with having had an average issue exceeding 1,000 for a preceding year. The News inclosed is only two weeks old and consequently does not count. Truth-Index probably does not claim an average issue of over 1,000 copies. Doubtless, the word the publisher uses is not "exceeding," but "about." In most newspaper offices where they print as many as 200 copies they usually say they have "about" a thousand circulation: the theory being that there are five people in a family, and every copy, therefore, counts five in figuring circulation.

OHIO.

SYLVANIA, O., March 6, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

I am an occasional reader of PRINTERS' INK and notice statement in issue of Feb. 27, p. 57.

The Sylvania Sun, of this place, has a circulation of over 2,500, 2,200 actually paid subscriptions, and still growing. So wants to be on the map. S. O. ROTHFUSS, Cashier Sylvania Savings Bank Co.

In the Directory for March, 1901, Sylvania gets credit for a right to a place on the map.

WARREN, Ohio, Feb. 28, 1901.

Publishers PRINTERS' INK:

GENTLEMEN—As per your offer on page 57, you will be expected to add one year to my time for PRINTERS' INK, on the following conditions of your proposition. Canfield, Mahoning County, Ohio, has a paper that has more than one thousand of an average issue each issue. The paper is named the Mahoning Dispatch and is published by Fowler & Son, Canfield, Ohio. E. H. KISTLER.

P. S.—Please send me a coupon good for PRINTERS' INK for one year, and oblige.

If Mr. Kistler will prove the accuracy of his statement he shall not only receive PRINTERS' INK for a year, but he shall also receive a complimentary copy of the latest issue of the American Newspaper Directory, price five dollars.

FREMONT PUBLICATION COMPANY,
FREMONT, O., Feb. 28, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

GENTLEMEN—In response to your invitation on page 57 of your issue of Feb. 27 we beg to suggest the Fremont (O.) News as a newspaper having more than 1,000 circulation and not named in your map. We should say the paper had many more than that number. We are in nowise connected with above publication. Very truly,

FREMONT PUBLISHING CO.

The March issue of the Directory gives the News credit for issuing more than a thousand copies, and Fremont, therefore, ought to have a place on the map.

PENNSYLVANIA.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., March 7, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

You have omitted to show on your map of Pennsylvania, giving all the places having a newspaper with a circulation of 1,000 or over, the town of Bryn Mawr, Montgomery County, in which the Bryn Mawr Home News is published.

You may send that subscription to

M. H. GANSER,
209 Stanbridge St.

Is Mr. Ganser certain that the Home News exists? In the March issue of the Directory it is marked ΔΔ which is explained to mean

ΔΔ No recent copy of this publication has been seen at the office of the Directory, and it may have ceased publication altogether.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 28, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

I beg to submit three places that have papers with a circulation of over 1,000, and which are not on the map.

Nazareth, Pa., Northampton Co., the Item, A. O. Sturgis, publisher; 1,700 circulation. Lititz, Pa., Lane Co., the Record, 1,400, the Express, 1,200. Terre Hill, Pa., Lane Co., small paper with a circulation of about 900, I think.

Please enter my name for a year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK. Am now on list, but will expire in March. Respectfully,

W. B. HORNBERGER,
1429 East Montgomery ave.

The reward was offered for the discovery of a place that REALLY DOES issue a paper with a thousand circulation, and not for the specifying of one where there may be a publisher who SAYS he has as much as a thousand circulation. There is a difference

AMBLER, Pa., March 9, 1901.

The North Wales Record, published at North Wales, Montgomery County, Pa., has a circulation of over 1,000. L. S. BESSON.

Query: What makes Mr. Besson think so?

TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 14, 1901.

I do not find the name of Shelbyville, Tenn., on the map and I notice that the directories give them 1,200 or more circulation. If I am correct please send me the PRINTERS' INK, commencing with the February 27th issue. I would like to get a copy of the February 27th issue anyway. Hoping to hear from you at once, I am, Yours truly, C. W. PATE.

Mr. Pate has been deceived.

VERMONT.

VERGENNES, Vt., March 4, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

The Vergennes Enterprise in all its editions—weekly—circulates over 4,000 papers per week. The Farm Enterprise—monthly—circulates 25,000 copies each month. These figures will be proved in any way you designate, statement, territory, postoffice records, affidavit or otherwise. But I want that subscription.

Yours truly, H. L. HINDLEY.

Perhaps Vergennes ought to have a place on the map. The Vergennes Vermonter prints editions for neighboring towns and is credited with an average issue of 2,314 copies for the year 1900. The Enterprise is hardly old enough yet to have gained a circulation rating based on the average output for a year, and the Farm Enterprise is too new a candidate to be considered. What does Mr. Hindley mean by the phrase "in all its editions"?

VIRGINIA.

74-76 ROANOKE AVE.

NORFOLK, Va, Feb. 28, 1901.

Newport News, Virginia, does not appear on the map printed on page 105 in your last issue. Newport News has two papers, both of which have more than one thousand circulation. Yours very truly,

ARTHUR S. WILKINS,
Scott & Wilkins, wholesale dealers in fine butter and high grade butterine.

P. S.—My present subscription to PRINTERS' INK is in the name of Scott & Wilkins, and does not expire until about six months hence. If agreeable to you please send to my address for one year after the expiration of Scott & Wilkins' subscription.

NORFOLK, Va., March 1, 1901.

Newport News and Portsmouth, Va., do not appear on the map printed on page 105 in your last issue. Newport News and Portsmouth both have two papers, both of which have more than one thousand circulation. Yours very truly, W. DICKSON, 53 Bermuda St.

The March Directory does accord to Newport News a right to a place on the map. Portsmouth has not yet acquired so enviable a distinction.

WISCONSIN.

ELIZABETH, Ill., March 4, 1901.

There is one paper that we know of having over 1,000 circulation which is not given a place on your maps. It is the Times, of Fennimore, Wis. Look it up and see if we are not correct. Respectfully, C. A. WALTERS, Publisher the Elizabeth News.

Yes; the issue of the American Newspaper Directory for March, 1901, gives it credit for an average output of 1,464 copies.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Feb. 28, 1901.

In the State of Wisconsin you have omitted from your map a city of quite importance. This city is Ashland, in Ashland County, with a population of over 13,000 Ashland is one of Wisconsin's foremost cities; situated as it is on Chequamegan Bay, an arm of Lake Superior, it affords one of the best harbors of the Great Lakes. Its shipping trade is immense, and according to the U. S. Census, 1890, only two other lake ports surpassed it, those being Chicago and Buffalo. It is also the center of railroads for Northern Wisconsin, five railroads entering it. The press is represented by two daily and four weekly papers. Though I do not know what circulation the papers have, they should, to my estimation, have over 1,000 circulation. With this information I think you will give Ashland its place on the appropriate map and also incidentally look the matter up and ascertain whether this information is worth one year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK.

FRANK L. SMITH, 173 N. Park Ave.

It really does seem that Ashland ought to have a paper with as much as a thousand circulation, but there is often a material difference in this world between what ought to be and what is. Mr. Smith will not get any reward for pointing out places that he does not know more about than he seems to about Ashland. If, however, it can be shown that Ashland really does have a paper with 1,000 circulation its name will go down on the map and so will Mr. Smith's on the PRINTERS' INK mailing list. There is still time.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 1, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

Desiring to secure a year's subscription to PRINTRRS' INK, I point out, according to your invitation on p. 57 of February number, that Portage and Ashland, both cities containing papers that have 1,000 circulation or more, are not on your map of Wisconsin.

Yours sincerely, W. M. CASTLE.

There is a paper in Portage that gets a J K L rating embellished with the two question marks, ??.

?? This sign is applied in cases where a publisher expresses himself dissatisfied with the rating accorded, but unwilling to convey information that will warrant a higher rating. A complimentary copy of the American Newspaper Directory will be presented to the first person who proves that a paper designated by this sign is in fact entitled to a higher circulation rating than the one accorded.

In Ashland there are papers that get the Z rating, but none that sustains a plain claim to issuing as many as a thousand copies.

Office of
THE MILWAUKEE "DAILY NEWS."
MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 6, 1901.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

In your issue of Feb. 27, 1901, I notice in the map of Wisconsin that quite a few of the large towns in the State are omitted. I inclose you list of the towns and cities in the State having a population of over 5,000 inhabitants. Indeed, it would be strange were there no papers or publications with a circulation of 1,000 copies or over in cities of 12,000 to 15,000 inhabitants.

The following list of dailies are credited with having a circulation of 1,000 or over:

Ashland, News, 1,000; Press, 1,200. Fond du Lac, Commonwealth, 2,000; Reporter, 1,800; News, 1,200. Wausau, Record, 1,300. Neenah, Times, 1,200. Beloit, News, 1,200; Free Press, 1,200; Independent, 1,200.

In Manitowoc the Weekly Pilot has a large circulation. It is all home print and an influential paper. Do not know what they claim or have, but know it has a large circulation.

Notice on the map the town of Hamburg. That place is eighteen miles from Wausau, the nearest railroad station, and has a population of about 100, or a few more. Didn't know there was a printing office in that place.

I cannot vouch personally for the circulations of the above-named dailies, but know they are good papers in their localities and believe the above figures are nearly correct.

There are a good many weeklies in the State that claim more than 1,000 circulation, but they are too numerous to mention. Yours truly,

W. J. KENRICK.

N. B.—If I am entitled to a year's subscription to PRINTERS' INK, as per your offer, you may send it to this address:

W. J. KENRICK,
Station B, Rural Route No. 2,
Milwaukee, Wis.

The above letter is interesting. It shows the confidence so common with men who do not know. The Directory editor reports that the Ashland News, Fond du Lac Reporter, Fond du Lac Commonwealth, Wausau Record and Neenah Times are all in the class of papers that furnish circulation statements with loopholes in them of the sort that entitles them to a Z rating, explained elsewhere. The Ashland Press sends in a report that secures for it the double interrogation marks, which are also explained elsewhere.

The Fond du Lac News, Beloit News, Beloit Free Press and Manitowoc Pilot are not believed to make any claim to issuing so many as a thousand copies. The Beloit Independent is not known to have any existence. At Hamburg there is a poultry monthly printed in German at 50 cents a year. It issues nearly 4,000 copies. It will be perceived that Mr. Kendrick has NOT earned any reward. What he points out is merely what he thinks. What is wanted is FACTS!

BELOIT, WIS., March 14, 1901.

Beloit, Wis., is not on your map. The Daily News during the year 1900 printed nearer 1,100 copies every evening than it did 1,000, and the circulation to-day is about the same. Do you want an affidavit to support this claim, or would you be satisfied with a statement from the Western Newspaper Union, Chicago, who furnish us ready-prints. Their books will show. Write them. Send the P. I. to me. Very truly, D. B. WORTHINGTON.

According to the March Directory Mr. Worthington is right.

Whoever reads the correspondence printed on the nine preceding pages will note that in every case where it is actually shown that a town exists that issues a paper having a thousand circulation, and was not mentioned on the map, the editor of the Newspaper Directory was already cognizant of the fact and had given due credit in his March issue. He explains that he does not find it possible to keep his maps corrected absolutely up to date, and as a consequence each series of maps is always one issue behind the letter press. A new town shown to-day to have a paper of the requisite circulation will exhibit that fact in the June edition of the Directory, but will not get a place on the map until the September Directory appears.

WHAT IS CIRCULATION.

The circulation of a newspaper is correctly stated by adding the number of complete copies of each separate issue printed during the entire year preceding the date of the statement and dividing the sum by the number of separate issues.

The number of complete copies printed, folded and prepared for distribution is the only number that can be absolutely known and definitely and truthfully stated. What is done with the copies has a bearing upon the quality of the circulation. No newspaper man prints copies without the intention of making some use of them. To print a surplus for the mere purpose of deceiving advertisers is too expensive. The same object may be achieved just as honestly by plain lying, which is cheaper. The difference between copies printed and copies sold is generally no more than five per cent, often much less, but sometimes as much as twenty or even ninety per cent. Just what the percentage is, when it can be known and stated, is information of much value to the advertiser who desires to form an opinion of the worth to him of a specified circulation.

WHEN the circulation is known, the matter of next greatest interest to an advertiser is the subscription price. With these and a copy of the paper before him, it is comparatively easy to estimate the probable advertising value of the medium.

ALMOST, BUT NOT QUITE.

Some one had asserted that if a publisher does not take the trouble to compile a statement, his circulation is rated in the American Newspaper Directory far below what it ought to be.

Thereupon the Directory editor, to refute the misstatement, directed attention in a recent issue of PRINTERS' INK to a standing offer of a reward for the discovery of a case of this sort, as follows:

A copy of the next issue of the American Newspaper Directory will be presented to the first person who shall prove that any paper in this edition credited with a circulation rating by letter is actually entitled to a higher letter rating than it receives.

This reward is rarely earned because papers with circulations underrated are nearly as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. Now and then, however, such a case is brought to light. The Grass Valley (Cal.) Morning Union may be such a one, but if so its case is not yet quite made out.

GRASS VALLEY, Cal., Jan. 29, 1901.
Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

Noticing your disposition to be fair toward all publishers of newspapers, I take the liberty to call your attention to the fact that I am entitled to a copy of the Newspaper Directory on account of your rating of the Grass Valley Union. You give the Union a J K L rating, while the actual circulation at present is 1,747 per day, and during the year 1900 was no less than 1,652 at any time. The Union has not taken the trouble to make a detailed statement in order to secure a rating, for the reason that it carries but few "foreign ads" and has not been seeking that class of business.

This paper receives a good rate from local advertisers, has all the advertising it can well handle, and the mechanical capacity of the plant has been severely taxed at times in order to accommodate all of the local advertisers.

The subscription list is of the most select class, and those who do not pay do not get the paper. There are few extra papers printed, say six to twenty copies each issue, and no returns or unsold copies outside of these. In addition to the regular circulation an edition of 500 sample copies is run off occasionally for the use of subscription canvassers.

Close track is kept of every detail in the subscription and advertising departments, and all patrons are treated alike. The mechanical department is remarkably complete for a city of 6,000 inhabitants, a linotype machine and fine job plant being a part of the equipment. I mention these things to show you that the Union is an up-to-date newspaper and conducted on the most approved business methods.

I am an employee of the Union and have every opportunity to know exactly what the circulation is, and the figures are published from time to time. If you will kindly inform me what proofs you wish to verify my statements I will send them—will send you affidavit of Mr. F. W. Prisk, the publisher, or affidavit of bookkeeper and pressman and make a showing of monthly paper bills.

Very respectfully yours,
WALKER JONES.

P. S.—I write this on my own responsibility, only consulting Mr. Prisk after it was written, and then for the purpose of ascertaining if he was willing to furnish affidavits and other proofs if I need them to establish my claim. Some time ago I furnished you with an article regarding the circulation of dailies in San Jose and some notes as to the effect of rural mail delivery, and I doubt if any one interested questioned the reliability of my statements, or deemed them anything but conservative. Am well acquainted with the newspaper situation in Los Angeles, and would be pleased to give you an estimate as to their circulation and value as advertising mediums if acceptable.

It will be noted that Mr. Jones is an employee of the Union, but he does not tell how he knows what its issue is, or claim any right to give information on the subject save that he has permission from the owner to write as he does. He does offer, however, to send a statement from the owner verifying the truth of what he has written. PRINTERS' INK, therefore, has pleasure in saying to Mr. Jones:

If Mr. F. W. Prisk, publisher of the Grass Valley Union, will indorse the letter printed above with the words: "The statements made herein by Mr. Jones are true," and will then add his own signature and the date and return it to us, we have the assurance of the Directory editor that it will be sufficient to establish the claim made and cause the Union to be rated: Smallest issue in 1900 was 1,652 copies.

When this has been done, if it ever is, Mr. Jones will get the reward offered and the Union will have the rating claimed for it. As a matter of fact, the Union actually is an unusually live-looking daily and appears to be worth an advertiser's attention.

PRINTERS' INK.

A JOURNAL FOR ADVERTISERS.

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AT THE NEW YORK, N. Y., POST-OFFICE, JUNE 29, 1893.

VOL. XXXIV. NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 27, 1901. No. 9.

TRUTH IN A WELL.

The New York Journal runs the following statement as a heading: "The Circulation of the Sunday Journal Is Greater Than the Combined Circulation of the World, Tribune, Press and Times." And nobody can find out how many copies are printed of either the World, the Tribune, the Press, the Times or the Journal.—PRINTERS' INK.

Commenting on the above extract from a recent issue of PRINTERS' INK, the accomplished Mr Don C. Seitz, of the publication office of the World, New York, addressed to PRINTERS' INK, under date of February 13, 1901, the following mysterious sentence:

"HERE IS OUR OLD FRIEND THE LIE AGAIN."

That any human being should have occasion to make use of such a word as "lie" in connection with such a matter as the circulation of a newspaper is one of the saddest thoughts that oppress the Little Schoolmaster. And yet this is not the first time that the brilliant and witty Mr. Seitz has taken occasion to use the same ugly word. A previous occasion was one time in the summer of 1900, when PRINTERS' INK happened to print the following paragraph:

The World persistently claims a larger circulation than any competitor, and invites investigation, but fails to make definite reports, and the advertiser who accepts its invitation to investigate, and calls for the purpose, is received with scant courtesy.

This brought from Mr. Seitz the letter printed below:

The World Publication Office,
NEW YORK, Aug. 7, 1900.

Editor of PRINTERS' INK:

Don't you think this lie has appeared often enough in PRINTERS' INK?

DON C. SEITZ.

In reply the Little Schoolmaster made inquiry of Mr. Seitz, as follows:

Don C. Seitz, Esq.:

I have your letter of 7th. You inclose a paragraph from PRINTERS' INK which says:

1. The World persistently claims a larger circulation than any competitor;
2. And invites investigation;
3. But fails to make definite reports;
4. And the advertiser who accepts its invitation to investigate, and calls for the purpose, is received with scant courtesy.

You ask if I don't think this lie has appeared often enough in PRINTERS' INK.

The paragraph contains four statements. Will you be good enough to tell me which one appears to you to be untrue?

Under date of August 10, 1900, Mr. Seitz made answer:

Replying to your favor of August 9, I beg to say that the whole offense in the paragraph hangs on number four in your division. Every World advertiser has a right to know its figures and is promptly shown same upon request, and Mr. Peter Dougan, who conducts PRINTERS' INK, I fancy, has had this privilege at least twice to my personal knowledge. What I wish to say and say plainly is that any man who has any business with the World and who puts a cent's worth of advertising in it can know the figures, gross and net, of the World's circulation.

This is the second or third time within the last couple of years that the statement has appeared in the same way in PRINTERS' INK, and my notion is that it is becoming a habit which we would have stopped. Yours very truly,

DON C. SEITZ.

When this letter came the case seemed to be "up to Peter," to use a slang expression that fits pretty close, and as Mr. Dougan was not aware that he had ever had any such valuable opportunity—let alone two of them—he made it his business to hie him to the office of the World and there seek the presence of Mr. Seitz—Don C.—and having done this he made report to PRINTERS' INK, as follows:

With the World letter of August 10 in hand I called on Mr. Don C. Seitz Wednesday, August 15. I read to him that part of his letter which stated that I had had the opportunity of getting at the circulation figures of the World and said it was news to me. Mr. Seitz reminded me that on a previous visit to him he had shown me his confidential tally sheets from the accounting department showing what the actual print and what the net sales of the World had been for some days.

Then Mr. Seitz commenced to talk with decision, earnestness and vigor.

"The letter you have in hand," said Mr. Seitz, "was written by me because PRINTERS' INK in a late issue said that an advertiser who came with the request that he be allowed to make an examination of the circulation of the World was treated with scant courtesy. Such a statement has appeared in PRINTERS' INK two or three times before and is unjust as well as untrue and should be corrected."

"Are you willing to have the circulation of the World examined?" I asked.

"Any advertiser who uses the World can make the examination. The proprietor of the Ripans Chemical Co., an advertiser in the World, or their accredited representative, can come here and make the examination or the Geo. P. Rowell Advertising Agency can select any advertiser they choose to make an examination—whoever the examiner is, he will be given full opportunity to make a complete examination, but the results must not be for publication—our books, records, paper bills, etc., will be opened up and given him in full detail," answered Mr. Seitz.

"Hasn't the World refused to permit such an examination? Has any advertiser ever made an examination?" were my next questions.

"I have been here seven years," said Mr. Seitz, "and do not know that any advertiser has ever been refused permission in that time, and within that time Ehrich Bros. and Bloomingdale Bros. have made an examination."

Continuing, Mr. Seitz said: "I know that you would like to have a detailed statement of circulation, for I have had the forms issued by the American Newspaper Directory, and do not know but what I would give you such a statement, but with conditions as they are it wouldn't be good policy for me to make such a statement at this time.

"Our competition is strong, many times unfair, our mailing list was at one time stolen by a competitor, so you can see that if I were to make a statement giving the circulation figures of the World it would be easy enough for a rival to claim some thousands more. Again, if I were to let such a statement go out of this office I would have no control over it—anybody could see the figures. It would become public property and that would be of advantage to our competitors. The one who played last would win.

"One day, for example, the World offers $1,000 for something, and next day the Journal offers $1,500, and in every way tries to do it a little larger, a little stronger. Because of such things I cannot make the statement asked for by the American Newspaper Directory."

"Will you make any sort of a statement?" was queried.

"No. Why?" was Mr. Seitz's answer.

"Well, if I should attempt to make an examination of your circulation and had in hand a statement signed by you I would have something to prove or disprove," I replied.

"Well, let the editor of the American Newspaper Directory come and examine the circulation of the World to prove his Directory circulation rating of the World. It's A, isn't it?—75,000. If he will make the examination we will make that rating look like thirty cents. I can tell the circulation of the daily papers of this city with more accuracy than the Directory does, and I think the Directory could give better ratings if it employed some methods that I use," said Mr. Seitz.

"But you have special means of finding out such facts that are not accessible to the Directory," said I.

"Well, I suppose I have, but you could use some," was the answer. "You could get the information by asking the men who order the papers to tell how many they are getting of each paper.

"Now, here is a record which tells me that the circulation of the morning World to-day is two hundred and fifty-two and some odd thousand and that of the Journal two hundred and sixty-six odd thousand.

"It would seem on the face of it as though the Journal was the better, but that is not so, for the World, Press, Times and Sun have agreed that their papers in New York City, Hoboken, Jersey City and Brooklyn, practically Greater New York, are not returnable and in the territory outside only ten per cent, while the Journal is returnable in all the territory. Figuring that their returns on the edition printed are 10 per cent—say 8 per cent, which is very low—makes a difference of over 16,000 and that makes the World as having the largest circulation.

"We beat the Journal in New York by 60,000 and are very strong in the small country towns, but the Journal is stronger in the large outside cities such as Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore. This is an expensive circulation to get and to hold and we had to decide whether we would get that sort of circulation and lose in the city or let it go and hold the city. We decided to hold the city and think that is better for the advertiser because our city people are in a better position to buy the things offered, are as a rule a better purchasing class.

"There is very little fluctuation in the circulations of morning papers. The fluctuations, however, with the evening papers are quite great and you would have a harder job to get at the true state of affairs. During the Boer war and in times of excitement we have had to keep the presses running continually to meet the demands.

"Here are my sheets. I find that the circulation of the evening World on one of the days of excitement, after deducting returns from newsdealers, newsboys, news companies and all other sources, amounted to three hundred and ten thousand and some odd. Here is last week—when it was so hot and newsboys did not sell papers so energetically, the net circulation was two hundred and fifty-eight thousand.

"It is my opinion that the circulation of the Evening Journal is about the same and that there is no difference in favor of either one of us.

"Here, look over these yourself." And your interviewer fell to looking over sheets of paper about the size of a half note sheet with the figures marked in ink, showing on top lines the number of papers printed and on the second line figures which Mr. Seitz said were the net circulation after deducting returns. Underneath, the percentage of returns from the different classes who handle the paper was given.

"Now, it is my opinion," continued Mr. Seitz, "that this whole circulation question which is talked of so much doesn't count for everything in advertising. Results determine whether a medium should be used or not."

"Then the advertiser would have to go it blind," I observed. "Don't you think he should know something of the circulation in advance—something to determine in his own mind whether the medium can or cannot pay him?"

"Well, he would have to go it blind once—only once, and after that he would know. What does the advertiser need to care about the circulation of the paper—whether it has 5,000 or 50,000 circulation—when he puts his money in the paper and it pays?

"I have known it to happen here with the World when we were on the high marks of circulation for advertisers to say it didn't pay, and at other times when the circulation had dropped off some for advertisers to come in and give lots of advertisements. I have tried to explain to myself why it was so; it was inexplicable.

"I am not, however, finding fault with the American Newspaper Directory, nor do I want to go into a controversy on circulations, but I didn't like that statement in PRINTERS' INK and wish it corrected.

"Any advertiser who cares to make the examination of the World circulation can do so and will be given full opportunity to make a thorough and complete examination to satisfy his curiosity, but it must not be for publication, and I cannot make a detailed statement of circulation."

It will be noted that Mr. Dougan came away with as much information about the circulation of the World as he might have read in electric figures in Madison Square any evening—and no more.

Mr. Seitz once had a neighbor who dug a well thirty feet deep and in it there was no water. The well sharp of that neighborhood—his name was Seitz—told the well owner that if the well were made two feet deeper there would be plenty of water. Now, it is a difficult matter to deepen a well at the bottom after it has once been stoned up, so this neighbor of Mr. Seitz's placed a flour barrel on top of the well and outside of that a molasses hogshead, and proceeded to fill the intervening space with earth. Thus his well was made two feet deeper and at little cost. Mr. Seitz in his youth had his ideas about deepening wells. In his maturer years he has equally pleasing and effective ways of discovering the circulation of a newspaper without letting anybody know what it is, or, if they do know, without having any right to tell. Mr. Seitz is an awfully nice fellow, nevertheless.

If Mr. Pulitzer ever gets all the juice out of Mr. Seitz, and Mr. Hearst should make a success of his Chicago American, it is possible that Mr. Victor F. Lawson of the Chicago News may find great use for a man of Mr. Seitz's experience and accomplishments.

In PRINTERS' INK's opinion there is one good reason for not letting the public know the circulation of a newspaper. A good and sufficient one. It is that the publisher of the paper does not want to have the public know.

FOR sixteen years Rowell's "The American Newspaper Directory" has had a place of honor and usefulness on my desk. My advertising experience began in 1885, and one of the first things I did was to buy a copy of the Directory. No man who advertises can afford to do without it.—Charles Austin Bates.

A CAREFUL examination of the American Newspaper Directory for the quarter ending March 1, 1901, shows that it has been compiled with great accuracy. It contains upward of 1,500 pages of statistical matter giving the circulation ratings of all the newspapers of the United States, Canada, Puerto Rico and the Hawaiian Islands, numbering more than 21,000. The circulation ratings are given with a great deal of care.

The Directory is complete in every particular and ought to be on the desk of every advertiser in the United States, as it gives just the kind of information that is necessary in relation to the circulation ratings of the newspapers of America.—Advisor, May, 1901.

COST OF ADVERTISING IN THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.

The American Newspaper Directory is published quarterly and appears in March June, September and December. The price of the book is $5 for each quarterly issue or $20 a year. The books are delivered carriage paid to any point in North America.

Publishers' Announcements.

A publisher's announcement may have a place in the Directory in the column with and directly following the catalogue description of the paper, being set in type uniform with the letterpress, but preceded by the words, Publisher's Announcement. The charge for such an announcement is 50 cents a line for each issue or $2 a line for a year. No announcement accepted for less than $1. An announcement amounting to $10 or more in any one issue of the Directory, when paid for in advance, entitles the advertiser to a free copy of the Directory (price $5), delivered carriage paid. A free copy of one issue of the Directory will also be sent in consideration of a yearly order amounting to $10 or more for the year, provided payment is made in advance—not otherwise.

Pictures of Buildings and Portraits.

Small pictures of newspaper buildings, or portraits of publishers, not exceeding an inch in length or breadth, may appear with the catalogue description of a paper if desired. The charge for the insertion of these pictures is $10 a year and such an order carries with it a right to one free copy of the Directory (price $5), carriage paid, if the amount of the order is paid in advance—not otherwise.

Displayed Advertisements.

A quarter-page display advertisement may have a place in letterpress portion of the Directory in a position on the same page with or opposite the description of the paper. The price for this space and position is $25 for each issue or $100 for the four issues appearing in a year: and the advertiser is entitled to a free copy of each issue of the Directory (price $5 each), containing his advertisement, to be delivered to him carriage paid. Half pages and full pages are charged at the same rate. Half pages $50, full pages $100, for each issue.

Discounts for Cash.

Five per cent may be deducted from prices named if copy of advertisement and check in full settlement accompany the order. Ten per cent may be deducted if payment in advance is sent for an entire year.

Orders amounting to less than $10 can not be accepted unless paidfor in-advance, because the trouble, delay, expense of bookkeeping, making drafts, conducting correspondence, etc., are so frequently greater than the small amount of the charge warrants or compensates
